Please respond to the following questions very honestly (one page limit per question):

1. Why are you interested in this trip? (Be very specific)
2. What in your background (academic, service, personal, professional or travel related) makes you a particularly good candidate for this travel academic experience?
3. What do you think you can contribute to and gain from this experience (please be specific and try to relate to your course material)?
4. This trip will require a person with patience and a mature/professional attitude. There are many variables and situations where things will not go as planned. Please share a few thoughts on your abilities to cope with these situations - be very, very honest.
5. Have you arranged with a faculty mentor a project you may perform on the trip (that engages your boatmates) for which you may earn academic credit?
 Yes No
If yes, please describe (include project title, brief description of “deliverable” required by mentor, mentor’s name and title, and amount of credit expected).

Trips typically cannot accommodate specific dietary and environmental conditions. Before applying, please be certain that you can fully function in the absence of less than ideal conditions.*
