

Summer 2008 Freshman Academic Potential Program

Students involved in the summer 2008 Academic Potential Program (APP) will select their courses for the options below. Students are required to take the First Year Seminar and one APP group of courses. Students will be advised as to which APP group they should register for based on Math Placement testing and major area of interest. All sections of ENC1101- College Writing and XMW0001- Math Workshop are limited to APP students only, however the general education courses will include other UNF students.
