Follow-up on Workplace Issues!

Last week's Special Bulletin on workplace safety brought several responses from the university community. Among the contributions:

Words of Thanks!

Mark Foxworth, UNF Police Chief: "[G]lad to get a plug from the union .... By the way, I read your letter bringing this up and the final actions by the administration .... GOOD JOB!"

Phil Riner, Professor, Curriculum and Instruction: "Congratulations on increasing safety awareness on campus." (See below for some safety ideas from Phil!)

Oops! We Overlooked ....

The UNF Safety Council! The Safety Council is responsible for presenting policy recommendations to the administration on campus safety issues. If you have any safety concerns, please contact: Ted Stumm, ex. 1930.

Tips and Concerns from Phil Riner! (Many thanks for pointing these out.)

- * Working conditions can aggravate other problems "...such as bulging discs, arthritis, carpal tunnel, etc."
- * Report poor working conditions, including "furniture and ventilation"
- * "Bad lighting" can include too much illumination as well as too little
- * Have chairs, desks, and computer monitors properly adjusted for your use -- or replaced!
- * Where is the nearest first aid kit?
- * Where is the nearest "blue light" emergency telephone?
- * Make sure that students are aware of important safety concerns
