In 2007, the University of North Florida celebrates its 35th anniversary, a milestone marking strong growth and academic excellence. The University was chartered by the state in 1965 and began recruitment of faculty and staff in 1970. The doors opened to a 2,000-member junior and senior student body in 1972. In 1984, UNF admitted its first freshman class, followed by sophomores in 1985. By the fall of 2006, the student body had grown to more than 16,000 students, enrolled in 52 undergraduate, 24 graduate, and one doctoral degree programs. Forty-six percent come from Duval County. Students also have come from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and from 56 foreign countries.

The University's excellent academic reputation has been recognized nationally. UNF's faculty has grown from 117 in 1972 to more than 500 full-time faculty members today teaching in five colleges.

The physical plant also has expanded dramatically since 1972 when the campus consisted of a core of a half dozen buildings. Today the campus encompasses 28 major buildings with more than 3 million square feet of space.

UNF emphasizes quality undergraduate and graduate education while playing a vital role in the cultural, economic and civic fabric of the Jacksonville community.
