GROUNDBREAKING FINAL

The groundbreaking tomorrow (Yup! Tomorrow!) will seem to many of the guests like the beginning of a new University. We in the family know that it is really the culmination of months and, in some cases, years of planning and hard work.

For this reason, we will be smiling a special smile, knowing that we have special things in which to take pride.

An activity plan was distributed yesterday to all those assigned a specific duty at the groundbreaking. Attendance by all other members of the UNF "family" is totally voluntary. The host and hostess name tags imply no duties but will simply identify you to the guests as a member of the University staff.

Arrangements have been made for an indoor ceremony in the FJC auditorium if Saturday dawns a rainy day and the weatherman forecast no break. In such a case, parking accommodations will remain the same.

Feel free to bring guests of your own and enjoy yourselves!

PARTY PARKING PREDICAMENT

The management of the Regency Lakes Apartments is concerned about the parking situation for the party Saturday night. Parking around the party room is somewhat limited--but they have asked us not to park elsewhere in the apartment complex so as not to arouse complaints from the residents.

They have suggested we park along Monument Road and walk into the complex. Of course, it all depends on how far you want to walk before the party and how far you're able to walk after the party....

NEW FACES

MARILYNN HAMRICK, new clerk-typist III in administrative affairs, was previously employed by the Division of Emergency Government--the State Civil Defense. That's her 1938 Packard out there!

Another former government employee, MARTHA LANE, is a new clerk-typist in the library. Martha was with the Social Security Office as file clerk before joining the UNF.

A familiar face will become more so...KANATHA (KAY) WOOTEN, our switchboard operator has moved from temporary to full-time as of August 27.

LUNCHEON REMINDER

The luncheon of the month will be on Friday, Sept. 24---that's next week. Sign up for the course you'd like to bring, or donate some money toward the cause. The sign-up sheet and donation can are at the switchboard desk.

UNITED FUND KICK-OFF

President Carpenter has named Dr. Laurence Green, chairman of the department of psychology, and Michael Powell, student assistant in administrative services, to head the United Fund drive for the University of North Florida. They will be kicking off the campaign on Monday, Sept. 20.

DISNEY CLUB WANTS US

The University is being considered for membership in the "Magic Kingdom Club", which is sponsored by Disney Enterprises. Membership in this club is an exclusive new way for personnel and their families to enjoy all the wonders of Disney World at family budget prices.

New memberships are limited to qualified organizations with at least 200 or more employees. When confirmation of our membership has been received, membership cards will be issued to each full-time employee.
