Dear Parents,

Having put three children through college and one more going in this year, I know how you are feeling as you read this. You’re proud. How did they manage to come so far, so fast? You’re a bit nervous. How are they going to cope on their own? You’re excited. What adventures lie ahead of your son or daughter? You’re just a little bit sad. Home isn’t going to feel like home without them. But you’re also happy. Your family has worked hard to get your student to the University of North Florida. And we could not be happier to have them — and you — as part of the Osprey family. The next few years are going to be exciting for all of us and I am glad we’re going to go through it together.

We have an incredible faculty and staff at the University of North Florida who pride themselves on providing diverse programs and activities to help our students acclimate to college life both in and out of the classroom. Your student will receive individualized attention in small classes with hands-on learning opportunities for which UNF has received national acclaim.

While your student is at UNF, he or she will be offered what we call Transformational Learning Opportunities. Each TLO is a unique experience, whether through study abroad, an internship, a service-learning course, involvement in a faculty-mentored research project, or participation in student government, athletics or one of the many on-campus student organizations. These opportunities change students’ outlook on education and life. Our students rave about these experiences and alums often tell us that their TLO was the highlight of their college career.

One of the great things about studying and living on campus is the opportunity to meet and get to know people from a variety of backgrounds. Because UNF is committed to diversity on all levels and across all sectors, our students have the chance to interact with a campus community that is made up of a multitude of cultures, races and ethnicities. We all have the ability to come together and celebrate what makes us unique and what binds us together as humans.

And all of this happens on one of the prettiest campuses in the state. We have the good fortune of being located on nearly 1,400 acres of a nature preserve, giving us several miles of hiking, walking and biking trails, several water ways and lakes, a plethora of outdoor activities through our recreation and environmental center and many opportunities to just get out and enjoy our beautiful setting.

So relax and enjoy your time with us — we are here for you and your student. We’re happy to have you both as part of the UNF family. I look forward to having an opportunity to meet with your student throughout our time together.

Sincerely,

John A. Delaney
President
CHAPTER 1
BE INVOLVED

A Message for Parents and Family Members

We are excited to welcome you to our University of North Florida Family. The University is dedicated to excellence and is committed to making our students’ experiences meaningful, both personally and academically, during their time here. We hope you as parents will be integral participants in making the lives of all UNF’s students better. In 2006 the UNF Parents Association was established and we encourage you to join the Association for the purpose of engaging in University activities while providing an avenue for interacting with other parents.

This Parents Handbook is intended to provide you valuable information about UNF as well as to assist you in reaching the best campus resources to answer your specific questions. As the year progresses, look for additional information on Parents Association events and services on the Parents Association web site at www.unf.edu/parents. Our web site provides easy access to the entire UNF community. It’s a wonderful resource for obtaining information on just about everything you will need for the year ahead.

We are excited to help welcome the families of our new freshmen and returning students each August and we are honored to have the opportunity to assist you throughout your son or daughter’s college experience at UNF. To help you get started, we extend a personal invitation for you to call or e-mail parents@unf.edu to help you assist your son or daughter to do the things that students should do for themselves. We would like to hear from you with your suggestions, questions, ideas and support throughout the year. We look forward to meeting you at events planned specifically for our UNF families, and we hope you stop by the office and introduce yourself when you visit our campus. Don’t forget to mark your calendar and make hotel reservations to attend Family Weekend October 24-26 this year. Highlights of the weekend include campus tours, athletic games, activities, picnic lunch and Jazz Band Concert at the Family Fun Zone, guided tour of the nature trails, canoeing, entertainment and most important - time with your UNF student.

Parents Association

The University of North Florida Parents Association recognizes the critical role parents and families play in the education, development, retention and graduation of students and serves to...

Unite — parents, families, faculty and staff as partners in support of the academic and personal success of students;

Nurture — the relationship between parents, families, faculty, staff and students; and Facilitate — on-going communication with parents and families about university policies, campus resources and student support services.

As a member of the Parents Association you can actively participate in the life of your Osprey student and interact with and lend support to other parents. You can volunteer for activities such as planning Family Weekend, participation on Orientation panels, and/or serve as Parents Association Regional Area Coordinators to host summer send-offs and be a contact for incoming parents. The Parents Association meets on campus twice a year to plan the year’s activities. One meeting always takes place during Family Weekend in October and another meeting during the Spring term with a family event.

The Osprey Parents Advisory Council was appointed in 2009 to serve as the liaison between the University and the parents and family members of UNF students in partnership with the Office of Parent and Family Programs. The Council members are volunteers who serve as the leadership arm of the UNF Parents Association and meet during the academic year to discuss issues, plan events to involve parents and family in the life of the University and allocate funding through the Parents Association Grant Program. The Council encourages the involvement and suggestions of parents and invites those interested in becoming members to contact the Office of Parent and Family Programs at parents@unf.edu.

Suggestions for Parents

BEING SUPPORTIVE

Freshman year can be a little scary for both parents and students. Remember that there are more than 2,000 other freshman families sharing this experience. It can be daunting, but there are several things you can do to help your student and you make the transition to college life a little smoother. As parents of college students or recent graduates, many of us who work at UNF can personally relate to the mixed emotions you are feeling as the parent of a college-bound student.

We hope this level of understanding puts those of us who will attempt to answer your questions in a better position to do so. The Parents Handbook is intended to provide you valuable information about UNF as well as to assist you in reaching key campus offices to answer your specific questions during the school year. The information included in this handbook can be found on the sidebar on the Parent and Family Programs homepage on the University website, www.unf.edu/parents.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

New students are typically busy exploring campus and their living environment, making friends and adjusting to their independence. Still, most of them, whether they admit it or not, need to hear from home.
We recommend that you let your student call you first; try to wait 48 hours before you just have to talk to your son or daughter.

Most students do not expect long e-mails or calls; they just want to know that you are fine and that they are not forgotten. Your student will appreciate regular e-mails, but don’t be surprised if your student doesn’t write or text very often.

For the safety of our students, staff and visitors, NO pets other than service animals are allowed on the UNF campus. When planning a visit to campus, please remember to leave all pets at home.

Care packages are appreciated. They can serve as an instant ticket to new friends. Nothing draws a crowd faster than a batch of homemade brownies or cookies. A box of favorite snacks and a reminder that “We’re thinking of you” can turn a week of insecure experiences around. Be sure to include your student’s phone number on packages to ensure that they make their way to your student’s on-campus home.

Gift cards are the perfect way to make sure your student spends your money on the things they need for school. UNF Bookstore gift cards are available in-store or online at www.unfstore.com. Just look for the web banner at the bottom of their website.

TALKING THINGS OVER

When you leave your son or daughter at college, it is just as memorable as when you watched him or her go to kindergarten. This will be a big emotional time for both you and your son or daughter. Think about what advice or thoughts you want him or her to remember. It can be something you use to guide your life or to work hard, but most important it should be how proud you feel. New students are adjusting to and defining their independence. They need about five weeks to really feel a part of the University.

However, they still may want to communicate their experiences to those who are important to them. Parents, friends and family should learn to listen, to be supportive and to give advice without nagging. You may want to learn as much about UNF, its academic, personal and social resources as you can. This way, when your student calls with a question or complaint, or is just tired and burned out, you can listen and, if needed, suggest some options for finding help. If you are only hearing about the new friends and good times at college, and not hearing about academics, then remind them that it is time to refocus on classes. Ask about classes instead of focusing on grades. Let them know that you know college is different from high school and you understand they may not do as well that first semester. Sometimes their academic expectations are higher than yours and they put pressure on themselves. When you ask about the classes, remind your son or daughter to discuss new ideas with their professors to start to build a relationship.

DISCUSSING PERSONAL CONDUCT

Talk with your student about his or her personal conduct. Don’t avoid discussions about diversity, drinking, sexuality, drugs and spirituality. UNF students are exposed to many different viewpoints and lifestyles in the classroom, in their living environment and through programs offered by the University. It is helpful for them to know where you stand on these matters, but don’t be surprised if they begin expressing viewpoints of their own.

Two of UNF’s Core Values are ethical conduct and mutual respect and civility. At UNF, it is expected that all students, faculty, staff and visitors will embrace these values in their daily lives. As such, students must understand that they are responsible and accountable for their actions and should treat others at all times as they would like to be treated. Students are expected to be familiar with and understand the Student Code of Conduct. Encourage them to review it at www.unf.edu/conduct or offer to review it together so you are also familiar with University policies.

PROTECTING SOCIAL NETWORKS

Online privacy is a growing concern in today’s world and especially on university campuses. A wealth of private information is being made very public in the virtual society of Facebook, Twitter and others. While these sites can be entertaining and useful for networking with friends and family in today’s hectic world, they can also become destructive if users are not careful about the information they post, the interactions they have and the amount of trust they give.

These communities have fake members and lurkers. Posting personal information online can lead to electronic voyeurism. Anyone can create an account. All someone needs is a valid e-mail address. Reported risks include identity theft, online and physical stalking, embarrassment, blackmail and worse.

The University has established the UNF Student Conduct Code for defining behavioral rights and responsibilities within this community. Any online activity regardless of intent or means that threatens harm, intimidates another person or invades their privacy is cyber bullying and a direct violation of this Code. Please discuss this with your student and review the tips below to protect your student from becoming a victim.

- Choose “friends” wisely — online friends are not really your friend unless you know them offline.
- Keep personal information private.
- Always use privacy settings.
- Don’t post anything online that the student would not want you, instructors, current or future employers, boyfriend or girlfriend to see.
- Don’t allow applications to access the student’s account.

Encourage your son or daughter to follow these recommended tips to protect his or her identity and provide personal online safety. Please report any suspected incidence of cyber bullying to the Resident Assistant in your hall or the University Police Department immediately.

Please see the Student Code of Conduct on page 61 for additional information.

WATCHING STUDENTS CHANGE

Be prepared for some changes ahead. They change the way they look, their eating habits and their major. Part of the college experience is confronting different values and beliefs and reflecting on new experiences. Your student may begin to challenge your values and question his or her personal beliefs.

Students may explore through trial and error or involvement in different student or special-interest groups. Most students eventually find out that there is very little difference between what they believe and what their parents, family and friends have taught them.

RETURNING HOME

Remember as your student returns home for holidays and breaks, life at UNF is probably very different from when your son or daughter was in high school. He or she is now responsible for making many decisions that you may have made in the past — family meals, curfew time, etc. Though some flexibility is important, it may be a good idea to outline and discuss mutual expectations before your student returns home to avoid conflicts with plans.

IN CLOSING

Be supportive and have faith in your student. Often when things become difficult for a new student (a bad test grade, end of a dating relationship, laundry disasters), the only place to run is to parents, family and friends. You will learn to decipher whether it is a crisis or just a bad day. These crises can leave you burdened by your student’s tears and frustration, while your student returns to his or her routine — feeling relieved and happier. Simply listening may be all that’s needed so you can hear what your student is really saying. Remember that your role is to support, not rescue, your college student.

NOW WHAT?

You have been there all year long while your son or daughter transitions to college life. Your student’s needs may vary from year-to-year so please remember that you need to keep encouraging your student past the first year. Be there for them: be a mentor; but remember they are behind the steering wheel as they head towards graduation and their life after college.
CHAPTER 2
FIRST-YEAR CALENDAR

After students are enrolled, there are several deadlines that will affect their status at the University. For example, if they fail to pay or defer fees for tuition by the published deadline, their enrollment may be purged or canceled. If this happens, students must restate through myWings and pay an additional re-registration fee and late payment fee. A student can be reinstated only one time each semester. Although these dates are posted prominently around the campus in many areas as well as being posted on the UNF website, it would be beneficial for parents to remind students of these important deadlines during their student’s first year. Failure to adhere to the dates indicated can cause unnecessary frustration and expense for both students and parents.

ASSIGNED ACADEMIC ADVISING —
During OCTOBER — Don’t Wait
Students are encouraged to talk with their academic adviser early in the semester. All freshman and sophomore students are assigned an academic adviser in the Academic Center for Excellence or through Honors. Academic advisers are available to discuss a student’s academic goals, intended major, course selection and the transition from high school to college. If students are having difficulty with a class or any issues with the transition to college, their academic adviser can inform them about available resources to help them be successful. All first-time freshman students are required to see an ACE adviser before they may register in November for spring classes. The ACE adviser will contact the student early in the semester to set up an appointment, but students may also make an appointment online through myWings to meet with their adviser or call (904) 620-1012 with any questions about the advising meeting process. (Call (904) 620-2649 to reach an Honors academic adviser.) Advisers can inform students about available tutoring, events, workshops, information sessions and study abroad opportunities. An academic adviser is a great resource for students throughout their college career.

Tip: ACE offers free tutoring in a multitude of areas. This is a great time to talk to your student about seeking tutoring assistance with classes.

FALL SEMESTER MIDTERMS
Results online — Thursday, October 16
Students with less than 30 semester hours can access their midterm grades online using the myWings portal. Grades are indicated by an “S” for Satisfactory progress or a “U” for Unsatisfactory progress. Students who are not making satisfactory progress at midterm are encouraged to meet with an academic adviser in ACE or Honors to discuss academic success strategies. ACE also offers free tutoring in many subjects, including English, math and many of the sciences.

Tip: Instructor office hours are the best way for your student to gain help in classes and connect with a subject. Has your student been in to see his or her instructors?

SPRING SCHEDULE ON WEB
Friday, October 24
Meet with adviser to select classes for Spring term.

FAMILY WEEKEND
October 24-26
This activity-filled weekend provides you and family members with many opportunities to visit with your student and to experience UNF’s campus life. Be sure to mark this date on your calendar. You won’t want to miss it!

Tip: Good time to make travel arrangements if your student is traveling home for Thanksgiving or Winter Break.

WITHDRAWAL DEADLINE (Without Refund)
Friday, October 31
Last day to withdraw from classes without refund before 5 p.m. Students should understand the possible consequences of withdrawing from a class. To be sure, they should consult with an ACE or Honors adviser who will discuss alternatives as well as the consequences of this decision. Students with scholarships, such as Bright Futures, should also contact Financial Aid (620-5555) regarding the impact of a withdrawal to their financial aid.

Effective Fall 2013, there is a course withdrawal limit for all degree-seeking and non-degree-seeking undergraduate students. The limit is six UNF course withdrawals; three course withdrawals at the 1000/2000 level and three course withdrawals at the 3000 level or higher. The appointment time lets a student know when he or she may begin registering for classes. First-time college freshmen are required to see their assigned academic adviser before they register. All other students are encouraged to see their academic adviser if they have any questions about appropriate course selection, alternate courses if their initial class choices are full and any course conflict issues. ACE sees students on a walk-in basis during registration, but to avoid a long wait, visit ACE early in the semester.

CHAPTER 3
CONFIDENTIALITY (FERPA)

We encourage positive communication between students and their parents or guardians and appreciate those parents who want to be involved in their student’s educational experience. We believe a strong support network is necessary both on campus as well as at home. That being said, we frequently hear from parents regarding their frustration with their perception that the University is not willing to be forthcoming with information related to their student. In truth, the University is limited in what can and what cannot be released to third parties, including parents.

STUDENT EDUCATION RECORDS (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) is a federal law which affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. The intent of this Act is to protect the privacy of student education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate and misleading data through informal and formal hearings and the right to file a complaint with the Family Policy Compliance Office (U.S. Department of Education) if they feel their rights have been violated. A penalty for non-compliance of FERPA can result in a loss of Federal funding to the University.

Many students and parents do not realize that FERPA has been protecting their records for many years. FERPA protects educational records of students at all levels — primary, secondary and post-secondary. During a student’s primary and secondary school experiences, the right of access to the student’s educational records rests with the parent or guardian. When the student enrolls at a post-secondary institution the rights of access converts to the student resulting in parents not being able to access student records without the student’s consent. An exception to this rule permits parents of dependent students (as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954) who provide sufficient documentation of the parent-dependent relationship to access their student’s educational record. Requests by students or eligible parents to access educational records must be in writing. As a courtesy, students are notified of all parental requests made in this manner. The UNF Registrar’s Office retains the right to review and release records in accordance with the best interest of each student.

In accordance with FERPA, as amended, and University policy, students’ academic records such as transcripts, grades, student class schedules and other information cannot be released without the written consent of the student. Students who wish to pick up any information or paperwork regarding their academic records including a class schedule should go to One Stop Student Services and must show a picture I.D. If anyone other than the student is sent to pick up paperwork for the student, he or she must show a picture I.D. as well as signed permission from the student to do so. If the person requesting the student records does not have a direct relationship to the UNF student, One Stop Student Services staff will ask additional questions to ascertain the relationship and will use discretion in releasing the requested information. No educational or non-directory information is provided over the telephone.

As one might suspect, FERPA is a far-reaching law with many subtleties. We encourage those parents who are interested in learning more about FERPA and its provisions to go to our website: www.unf.edu/onestop/ferpa/or the U.S. Department of Education FERPA website: www2.ed.gov/policy/gen/guid/fpco/ferpa/index.html.
FERPA AND FINANCIAL AID

While this policy is enforced for the protection of our students, it also can cause frustration on the part of parents when calling or visiting the University to assist their students with the financial aid process. One way to remain involved is to accompany your student when she or he visits One Stop Student Services for financial aid discussions. If you are from out of the area, arrange for your student to call you from One Stop Student Services so that you can assist by phone. If necessary, set up an appointment time for these types of meetings to facilitate your schedule. For more information on scholarships and financial aid, please read the information online at www.unf.edu/onestop/finaid/.

DIRECTORY INFORMATION

Directory information is the information available about a student that is not considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. While FERPA and state law protect the privacy of educational records, directory information is not treated as confidential and may be disclosed by the University without student consent unless the student requests non-disclosure. At UNF, the following has been designated as directory information:

- Name
- Mailing address
- Telephone number
- Dates of attendance
- Admitted college/major
- Degrees awarded
- Status (full or part-time)
- Classification (freshman, sophomore, etc.)
- Participation in officially recognized activities and sports
- Honors
- Weight/height of athletes
- Student images, including photographs, videos, or any other media containing a student’s image or likeness

REQUESTS FOR NON-DISCLOSURE OF DIRECTORY INFORMATION

Students may request non-disclosure of their directory information by submitting the Non-Disclosure Request on the Student Records menu in myWings by the end of the first scheduled week of classes each term as noted in the calendar.

CONTACTING ONE STOP STUDENT SERVICES

Students cannot e-mail One Stop directly at onestop@unf.edu. They must use the online contact form, www.unf.edu/onestop/contact/. Students receive an automated reply when they e-mail onestop@unf.edu directly that explains One Stop did not receive the e-mail and that they should contact One Stop using the contact form.

One Stop advertises its hours as 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. Monday – Thursday and 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. Friday. One Stop phones do not turn on until 9 a.m. Friday. While the One Stop office opens at 8 a.m. Fridays, the front counter is staffed by admissions counselors, not One Stop Student Services counselors.

HOW IT WORKS

Students who decide to release information to a parent will first identify the parent through myWings. Complete information and instructions for students to provide their parent with access to their education record can be found in the Student Handbook online and from the Parent Portal at www.unf.edu/onestop/parents. The parent will receive security credentials — their own N number — for access to myWings. Parents will not have access to other University services like e-mail or library privileges, but they will be able to access different areas of their student’s educational record and to pay bills on behalf of their student.

If your student elects to provide you access to their information, your student will receive an e-mail which they must forward to you. Within that e-mail will be additional instructions and a link to the myUNF ID website where you can finalize your security credentials. Once established, you will be able to log into myWings, the secure online portal for university business, and access the Parent Portal.

Within myWings, you will see a variety of things depending on your role and history with the University. For example, if you were a student at the University you will have access to your student records and other data, including the Parent Portal. If your only role (thus far) is that of a parent of a UNF student who has authorized you to view information, you will only have access to the Parent Portal.

The myWings portal contains a combination of tabs (pages) and channels on each page. The link to the Parent Portal will be found in a channel. Follow the link to the Parent Portal to view the information released to you by your student. If you have more than one student at the University, each will have to give you access to their records. If they do, then you will be able to select them independently from a drop-down list. If you have questions regarding what information your student has released to you, we encourage you to have a conversation with your student.

For technical assistance, including passwords and login help, we recommend users contact the ITS Help Desk at (904) 620-HELP (4357)

UNF ID — THE “N” NUMBER

As a result of heightened awareness for privacy protection and the growing potential of identity theft, UNF has moved away from the use of Social Security numbers as primary identifiers. Students login to computing resources using their UNF ID, which begins with an N and contains eight numbers. An example is n00345678. The UNF ID or N number provides student access to the myWings portal, e-mail, Blackboard (used in most UNF classes), SkillSoft e-learning (self-paced training on hundreds of computer skills and professional development topics), fee payment and personal web space.

PARENT PORTAL

In an effort to help students and their parents, the University has recently developed an online system where your student can release his or her confidential information to you via a secure online access. In so doing, you will be able to log into the University’s myWings portal using your own security credentials and view the records according to your student’s authorization. Access to the Parent Portal is not automatic — your student must take steps to create your security credentials and your student will determine the elements of their educational record to share.
ACADEMIC PREPARATION

If you want to be kept informed about your student’s grades, make sure that you talk realistically about your expectations for performance before your student leaves for UNF. Remember that college is designed to be a challenging academic experience full of opportunities to pursue many different academic, social, and personal interests. Setting unrealistic specific grade point average (GPA) expectations for your student may lead to pressure and conflict between you and your student. College classes are not structured like high school or dual enrollment and expectations for individual student performance are higher. Try to maintain a positive, calm and supportive attitude about grades and be sensitive to your student’s need for academic exploration. This kind of attitude will keep the channels of communication open.

Some students choose to explore many non-academic pursuits their first semester at college and then spend the next few semesters trying to make up for a lower first semester GPA. If you are consistently supportive about the importance of academics you can help your student remain focused on making academic life a priority especially during the first semester at UNF.

Academic Advising

ACADEMIC CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE (ACE)

The Academic Center for Excellence (ACE), located in Founders Hall (Building 2) Room 1200A, provides the following opportunities to currently enrolled UNF students:

• Academic Advising for Freshmen and Sophomores

  All new freshmen are required to attend UNF’s new student orientation. During these sessions, academic advisers will assist students in selecting courses that reflect individual interests and abilities while also satisfying UNF requirements. Freshmen will meet with advisers from the Academic Center for Excellence (ACE) or Honors Program. These advisers also explain the how tos of registration and share other information to aid with a smooth transition to college and a successful first semester. Students will meet individually with an academic adviser their first semester to discuss their academic goals and progress as well as partner with their assigned academic adviser to review the many UNF resources available to assist them in reaching academic goals. Students will transition to academic advisers in their particular college of study once they reach junior and senior status.

  Advisers will engage students in a discussion of individual aptitude and areas of interest in selecting a major as well as answer questions pertaining to prerequisite information and UNF’s limited-access program requirements. The assigned adviser will assist the student in understanding their degree evaluation and My Osprey Map. These tools outline for the students the courses required for their desired major and the timeline in which they should complete those courses.

  Throughout the semester, advisers provide ongoing review and monitoring of students to identify those who may be considered at risk. Mid-term grade reports for freshmen and the Early Academic Alert System (EAAS) are important components of this process. Once students are identified, advisers work with them and provide recommendations for academic assistance and additional support as needed. This may include referrals first to the student’s professor and/or to various other on-campus resources such as Career Services, ACE Tutoring, Counseling Center, Student Health Services, Disability Resource Center and Student Ombudsman.

  Tip: Academic advisers dedicate themselves to managing the advising process and fostering a caring relationship. They strive to be accessible to students. Student advisees are expected to recognize that advising is a shared responsibility and that they are ultimately responsible for making decisions regarding their academic, career and personal goals.

• Tutoring

  The Academic Center for Excellence provides students walk-in, peer assisted tutoring in the physical and natural sciences, math, engineering, social sciences, foreign language, writing, history, statistics and selected business courses. ACE’s peer tutoring offers students the chance to get both one-on-one and group assistance in understanding course content. Located in Founders Hall (Bldg 2, Room 1200A), tutors are available to meet with students throughout the week. Evening tutoring will be offered on campus, Monday through Thursday, 6-10 p.m. for residential students.

To view the current tutoring schedule, visit: https://banner.unf.edu/pls/nfpo/wksmtut.p_tutor

- Academic Success Skills Workshops

  Each semester, the Academic Center for Excellence offers a variety of Academic Success Skills Workshops. Topics include: overcoming procrastination, exploring UNF majors, setting goals and managing time, overcoming fear of public speaking and metacognition. These workshops help students successfully transition to UNF by developing proven academic strategies for succeeding in college. To view a complete list of workshop offerings with dates and times, please visit: www.unf.edu/ace/study_skills/homepage.aspx.

- Annual Writing Contest

  The Academic Center for Excellence conducts an annual student writing contest in partnership with the Department of English. Entry categories include: Poetry, Short Story and Creative Non-Fiction. Students from all UNF majors are encouraged to submit their best writing.

MY OSPREY MAP
(COURSE SEQUENCE GUIDE)

My Osprey Maps provide a term-by-term sample schedule for undergraduate academic programs at the University of North Florida. Osprey Maps guide students in the selection of courses each term. Following the sample schedule and completing designated mile-markers at the appropriate time will facilitate graduation in four years. The maps should be used in consultation with an academic adviser. Admitted students can access their personalized My Osprey Map in myWings. Sample maps for each undergraduate program are available at www.unf.edu/myospreymap/.

The Osprey Map is not a contract between the University and the student. It should be used as a general guide for the purpose of meeting requirements and constructing course schedules. Maps may be altered periodically to meet objectives of the academic program or the university.

Students who are undecided as to their chosen major should consult an academic adviser, career services counselor and refer to the University's undergraduate catalog www.unf.edu/catalog/programs/ug/ and department websites. They can view various degree programs by college and major to determine required pre-requisite courses and core courses as well as major requirements and electives.

REGISTER FOR CLASSES

After students are admitted to the University, they will be assigned a registration time ticket. The time ticket indicates the earliest time a student may register for classes. The ticket time can be viewed online using myWings at UNF’s website www.unf.edu, by clicking on “Registration Status” under “Registration Tools and Resources” in the Student tab.

First-time in College (FTIC) students register during their Orientation session after being advised on their courses by an academic adviser from the ACE, or for Honors students, an adviser from Honors Advising. Students may register for classes by using the myWings web portal from the UNF web site during their Orientation and during the normal registration period. The schedule of classes will be available online approximately two to three weeks prior to the beginning of the registration period.

Under certain circumstances, “holds” may be placed on student records and will prevent students from registering for classes. Students should check their registration status in myWings prior to their registration time to resolve any holds that may prevent them from registering. If students have holds, the website will direct them to the offices that can lift the holds. ACE places a hold on every incoming freshman and this hold will be lifted once the student attends Orientation.

ACQUIRE A STUDENT DETAIL SCHEDULE FROM THE MYWINGS WEB PORTAL

The student detail schedule lists the courses for which the student has registered, class locations, when the class is held and instructor information. To access the student detail schedule, sign on to myWings, click the Student Self Service link under My Records, and select Registration. The fee assessment — an invoice of tuition and fees — is also available from the myWings web portal. The fee assessment can be found under the Student Self Service link under Student Account. From here, there are two options. To view an overall statement, select Account Summary. To view fees for each term, select Account Summary by Term.

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES (TLO)

Introduced by UNF President John A. Delaney in 2005, transformational learning opportunities provide financial support for faculty and staff members to design and implement unique projects for students. A transformational learning opportunity is an experience that occurs inside or outside the classroom that potentially enriches or augments student learning and personal development. A variety of TLOs are offered, including study abroad, research with a faculty member, service learning, field study, internships, practicum, directed independent study, learning communities and leadership experiences. To view a list of undergraduate projects, visit www.unf.edu/tlo/.

THE FRESHMAN EXPERIENCE

The University of North Florida is committed to helping first-year students start strong and get the most out of their college experience. The Freshman Experience offers a variety of programs to help new students integrate into campus life and ease the transition from high school to college. We encourage your student to take advantage of these unique opportunities as their first step towards success at UNF.

UNF READS! PROGRAM

The book selected for UNF Reads 2014 is a national best-seller: Malcolm Gladwell’s Outliers: A Story of Success. All incoming freshmen should purchase the book (available at the university bookstore) and read it prior to arriving this Fall. (Did you know that one of the best predictors of college success is the habit of reading for pleasure?) You might enjoy the book as well. Events related to the book will take place throughout the semester, beginning with activities scheduled during Week of Welcome. A major speaking event will take place during the fall semester connected with Outliers.

A number of freshman-level courses also will require the book.
TAYLOR LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

The Taylor Leadership Institute is an initiative within the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs emphasizing the encouragement, promotion and rewarding of personal, civic and community engagement with a concentration on values and leadership constructs.

In today’s competitive job market, anything UNF students can do to set themselves apart from their peers will help them get noticed by potential employers or graduate schools. One way students are getting that extra edge at UNF is by obtaining the Community Leadership minor through the Taylor Leadership Institute.

The Community Leadership minor consists of three credit-bearing leadership development classes and a 3 credit practicum consisting of two experience-based leadership initiatives — one internal to UNF and one external, community engagement and/or international leadership experience and a capstone presentation. Designed to highlight the student’s transformational learning, this culminating event is an opportunity to reflect upon and integrate the student’s insights, experiences and knowledge gained through the study of leadership and community engagement.

The Community Leadership minor reflects the tangible symbol and record of the student’s dedicated commitment to the intentional study and practice of leadership. President Delaney honors the graduates who have earned the Community Leadership Minor at every graduation ceremony.

The Institute facilitates the education and development of students on how to become effective, ethical and value-based leaders with a commitment to excellence, accountability and responsibility to the real world of the workplace and civic/community engagement.

Several programs are now operational that demonstrate this:

• The Community Leadership minor
• Experiential Learning Transcript (ELT)
• Annual Student Leadership Summit
• Leadership Speakers Bureau

• Intergroup Dialogue Program and Entrepreneurial Resource to align community entrepreneurs with student entrepreneurs.

Intergroup Dialogue

Intergroup Dialogue was designed to explore topics of social group identity, conflict, community and social justice among students. Intergroup Dialogue is a process through which students of different social identities learn to hear and respect each other’s positions, first, by coming to understand how the various labels people assign to one another affect their own and others’ lives and then by discussing the commonalities, differences and conflicts between groups.

The core of this program is a three-credit course; Intergroup Dialogue among Diverse Populations is available to all undergraduate students for elective credit and satisfies one of the course requirements for the Community Leadership minor. Further information about this program can be found at www.unf.edu/taylor-leadership/Intergroup_Dialogue.aspx

CENTER FOR COMMUNITY-BASED LEARNING

The Center for Community-Based Learning contributes to fostering an institutional culture of community engagement as one of the signature characteristics of a UNF education. Center staff partners with others to develop programs and courses that include authentic, real-world settings as an intentional part of their curricular and co-curricular learning experiences. The Center provides opportunities for students to get involved through programs such as:

• Week of Welcome Community Service — A one-day event open to all incoming students to learn and serve in the Jacksonville community
• Ospreys in Action — Student-led community service immersion trips during Spring Break
• Osprey Community Ambassadors — Student leaders assist in planning community-based programs for their peers
• Community-Based Undergraduate Research
Partnerships — Students collaborate with faculty and community advisers to do research in Jacksonville.

The community-based courses, activities and programs offered at UNF provide students opportunities to improve critical skills and dispositions many employers seek: intercultural competence, ethical character, engaged citizenship and the ability to apply knowledge in creative and practical settings. They also enrich student learning, personal development and civic engagement while also contributing to the enrichment of the greater Jacksonville community and beyond.

HONORS AND SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Who are our Honors students? Honors students want to excel. They possess intellectual, social and cultural curiosity and want to learn. They are self-motivated, and will take any opportunities presented to them. They demonstrate leadership and integrity. They want to get the most out of their educational opportunities in the classroom and beyond and belong to a lively community of similarly driven people. Although the Honors Program has a dedicated faculty and staff, the quality of the Honors experience is facilitated by the energetic group of students who define the environment.

What constitutes the Honors Program? Students in the Honors Program will take at least 15 credit hours of Honors-designated classes that emphasize disciplined critical thinking, global awareness, leadership and an interdisciplinary perspective. They also complete a capstone experience and are successful in their classes, graduating with at least a 3.4 GPA. The Capstone experience is intended to facilitate a relationship among the student, a faculty member in their major and the Honors Program. The Capstone also serves as a gateway for students completing Honors in their major. The first class students take is the Honors Freshman Colloquium, a shared experience with the entire Honors freshman class that builds community, teaches academic and leadership skills, and challenges students with intellectual and academic exploration in the context of small-group student-led breakout sessions. The class includes a service-learning project working with our local refugee population to give students hands-on experience practicing leadership and community-building skills. Most other Honors courses are limited to 20 students and taught by some of the University's most engaging professors. The program emphasizes opportunities for learning outside of the classroom including service learning in the community, undergraduate research with faculty mentors, student leadership opportunities and study abroad. We build a tight-knit and supportive community with Honors-only opportunities to meet other students even before classes begin at our Honors Preview Day in April and then the Honors Freshman Retreat in August. Many of our students choose to live in our Honors living-learning communities in the two most desirable residence halls.

Applications can be found on the Honors website at www.unf.edu/honors-scholars or by calling (904) 620-2649.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS (ROTC)

Army ROTC

The Army Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC) at the University of North Florida is a challenging educational program of leadership and military skills training. It prepares UNF students for officer responsibilities in the active Army, Army Reserve or Army National Guard. Army ROTC courses fit into most UNF academic programs as electives. ROTC cadets normally take one course and one lab per semester right along with their other classes. Freshmen and sophomores begin with the no-obligation basic courses. They receive instruction in leadership and military skills such as physical fitness, land navigation, and first aid. Junior and senior cadets make up the advanced courses. At this stage, cadets make a formal commitment to the Army, receive instruction on leadership principles and advanced military skills, demonstrate those skills at the national Cadet Leader's Course (CLC), and receive a commission as a US Army 2nd Lieutenant upon graduation. UNF Army ROTC offers opportunities for both active duty and reserve scholarships with full tuition/fees (or room and board up to $10,000 per year). Cadets may apply for a two- or three-year Army ROTC campus-based scholarship. Each pays full tuition, $600 per year for books, plus a monthly stipend (during the school year) for living expenses.

- Naval Science Program (NROTC) @ JU
  University of North Florida students may participate in the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps program which is housed at Jacksonville University while they are earning their academic degrees at UNF. UNF’s Student Affairs Division serves as management liaison for this program.

  The mission of the NROTC is to prepare future leaders of the United States Navy and Marine Corps mentally, morally and physically for commissioning in the naval services.

  The goal is to provide a steady supply of well-educated junior officers, ready to serve their country. The NROTC program is designed to support the student’s academic major with specified University courses and naval professional courses.

  NROTC graduates will: understand the fundamental roles and missions of the United States Navy and the importance of sea power to our national interests; know the concepts and principles of leadership; appreciate national security requirements; gain a strong sense of personal integrity, honor and individual responsibility; and attain an educational background which will allow advanced/continuing education later in their careers in a field of application and interest to the naval service.

  There are two phases (or courses) of NROTC, a basic course taken during the freshman and sophomore years, and an advanced course taken in the junior and senior years. There are two programs — the NROTC Scholarship Program and the NROTC College Program. See UNF’s online academic catalog for more information.

THE INTERNATIONAL CENTER
Study abroad is an enriching, transformational experience that provides students with unique opportunities for academic, social and personal growth. The International Center provides students with a variety of Study Abroad experiences ranging from one week to an entire summer, a full semester or even an academic year.

Many international programs are conducted in English, some programs are specifically designed around foreign language study and other programs require proficiency in a foreign language. Study abroad is available almost anywhere around the world.

Each year, hundreds of UNF students earn credit towards their degrees while studying overseas. No matter what your student’s major is, from accounting to zoology, UNF can probably find a program to accommodate his or her needs and interests. Students can study and earn credit for a semester or a year through a UNF exchange program, through a third-party study abroad organization, through other U.S. institutions or through direct enrollment at a foreign institution. There are even opportunities for international internships.

In an exchange program, UNF students pay UNF tuition, are assigned UNF course equivalencies for the work they complete abroad and the grades and credits are transferred into their UNF academic record. UNF offers exchange programs at vetted partner universities in all five major continents and in more than 20 different countries. These exchanges give students the opportunity to continue their studies as a full-time student, while being submerged in a completely different country and culture. An additional benefit to studying through an exchange is that UNF Exchange Programs are usually very cost effective, which has allowed students from all financial backgrounds to engage in study abroad.

If a student cannot find an exchange program that meets their needs, then the International Center will help find an alternative semester or academic-year study abroad opportunity in the location they desire, with the courses they want, at a time that is suitable.

Through faculty-led programs, UNF professors have taken students all over the world. In fact, UNF usually offers some 30 faculty-led classes each year in a variety of majors and disciplines. Each spring and summer, UNF faculty lead students on two to six-week programs during which students may earn up to nine credit hours toward their degrees. Students register for UNF study abroad classes in the same manner as any other UNF course. For some programs, the instruction takes place exclusively overseas, while for others there will be study time on campus combined with on-site learning activities such as field trips and professional visits abroad.

Scholarships are also available specifically for study abroad, such as the Student Affairs International Learning Scholarship (SAILS) which can help fund a student’s international experience. See the International Center for more information and scholarship applications and deadlines.

Whichever the course or program, UNF Study Abroad offers students an academically rewarding and culturally enriching overseas experience. Check out the Study Abroad website at www.unf.edu/intlctr/.

CHAPTER 5
POLICIES TO REMEMBER

Parents and students should be familiar with all University Rules and Procedures by reading the Academic Policies and Procedures section of the Student Handbook found online as well as those in the current undergraduate catalog also online. A brief summary of the more important regulations students are expected to know and abide by are listed here. Understanding all this information is your student’s responsibility. Deviations from these policies may impact a student’s timely academic progress toward graduation and/or have significant financial implications. As such, if students have any questions regarding any policies, they are strongly encouraged to contact their academic advisor or other UNF staff member for clarification.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY CODE

In order to protect the integrity of the teaching, learning, and evaluation process, the University of North Florida expects all members of the academic community to respect the principle of academic freedom and to behave with academic integrity.

Briefly stated, academic misconduct shall consist of any attempt by students to misrepresent their performance on any exercise submitted for evaluation. The primary responsibility for insuring adherence to the principle of academic integrity rests with students and faculty. Any infraction which comes to the attention of any person should be brought to the attention of the faculty member to whose course it pertains.

Violations of Academic Integrity include, but are not limited to:

- Cheating: Intentionally using, providing, obtaining or attempting to use unauthorized materials and/or information of any kind in or during any academic exercise.
- Fabrication and Falsification (intentional and unauthorized): Falsification is a matter of altering information, while fabrication is a matter of inventing or counterfeiting information for use in an academic exercise.
- Multiple Submissions: The submission of any portion of the same academic work for credit more than once without authorization.
- Plagiarism: Intentionally or knowingly presenting the work of another as one’s own (i.e., without proper acknowledgment of the source) unless such ideas, information, etc., are common knowledge.
- Abuse of Academic Materials: Intentionally or knowingly destroying, stealing, or making inaccessible library or other academic resource materials.
- Complicity in Academic Dishonesty: Providing assistance in any form to help another to commit an act of academic dishonesty.

Possible faculty actions in cases of academic misconduct may range from referral to the appropriate support service (counseling, advising and/or other assistance) to expulsion from the University.

APPEALING AN ACADEMIC DECISION

The University of North Florida operates on the principle that all members of its community should be treated fairly in regard to their rights and responsibilities. These documents uphold a faculty member’s right to control the content of the syllabus and reading material, to determine the content of examinations, and right to free speech. These rights constitute the faculty member’s guarantee of academic freedom. Therefore, the following procedures have been developed to provide an impartial arena for resolution of conflicts that cannot be resolved successfully between the primary parties involved.

Students may appeal grades or grade-related penalties assigned for academic misconduct due to violations of the Academic Integrity Code. They also may petition for variances from University academic policies with regard to application for graduation deadline, course enrollment within two weeks after the drop/add deadline, course withdrawal deadline, reinstatement into courses and to change from one course to another related course. Requests not reconciled at lower levels may be appealed to the University Appeals Committee. For all other academic appeals, the student must first make a written appeal to the faculty member involved (within one year of notification) and, if applicable, the student must also complete a Request for Waiver of University Policy or Extension of Deadline form.
PETITIONING UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC POLICIES, REGULATIONS AND EXTENSION OF UNIVERSITY DEADLINES

Students seeking variances from University academic policies and regulations may petition select policies. In addition, students may petition to extend only the following three deadlines: to apply for graduation, to enroll in a course, or to withdraw from a course. Completing a petition does not guarantee that a particular policy, regulation or deadline will be waived, as petitions are considered exceptions and are evaluated on a case-by-case basis. The student should consult his or her advisor and/or the Student Ombudsman prior to submitting one of these petitions.

ATTENDANCE POLICY — FIRST DAY

Students are expected to attend all scheduled University classes to satisfy all academic objectives as outlined by their instructors on the class syllabus. Instructors may establish course-specific attendance requirements. These must be published in the course syllabus and disseminated at the first class meeting. The instructor has the right to deal with individual cases of non-attendance and to determine the effect of absences upon grades.

Students are required to attend the first class meeting of courses for which they are registered. Failure to do so may result in the student being dropped from the course at the instructor’s discretion.

Students, who are unable to attend the first class due to extenuating circumstances beyond the student’s control, must notify the instructor before the first class meeting. Non-attendance does not guarantee a student will be dropped from a course. Please make sure that your student reads and understands the full policy found in the Student Rights and Regulations online.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCES

The University of North Florida recognizes and values students’ rights to observe and practice their religious beliefs and this regulation provides a procedure in which students may seek reasonable accommodation of their religious beliefs in regard to class attendance, scheduling of examinations, major class events, major University activities and work assignments.

- Class attendance: Any student, upon notifying his or her instructor, will be excused from class to observe a religious holy day of his or her personal faith. Such notification shall be made no later than one week prior to the holy day, or as prescribed by the instructor at the beginning of the term.

- Work assignments: Students who are excused from class or a specific work assignment for the purpose of observing a religious holy day will be responsible for the material covered in their absence, but shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up any missed work. Missed work shall be made up in accordance with a timetable set by the student’s instructor or as prescribed by the instructor at the beginning of the term.

- Examinations, major class events, major University Activities: No major examination, major class event, or major University activity should be scheduled on a recognized religious holy day. A recognized religious holy day is a significant day of religious observance as recognized by the highest governing body of that particular religious faith. Evidence of such recognition shall be provided by the student unless the holy day has been previously recognized by UNF on its University Calendar as a day of observance in which the University is closed in observance of the holiday.

- Seeking Redress for Failure to Provide a Religious Accommodation: Any student who believes he or she has been unreasonably denied an educational benefit pursuant to this regulation due to his or her religious belief or practices may seek redress of the decision by filing a grievance for failure to provide a religious accommodation. Copies of this grievance form may be obtained through One Stop Student Services, Hicks Hall (Bldg. 53)/First Floor.

CONCURRENT/TRANSIENT ENROLLMENT

Concurrent/Transient enrollment is enrolling in courses at another institution while attending UNF for the purpose of transferring credit back to UNF. This requires prior approval by an academic advisor and completion of a Concurrent/Transient Enrollment Form. Students requesting to take courses at another school in the State of Florida must complete the transient student approval via an online process. For more information visit: www.unf.edu/ace/advising/transient_form_process.aspx.

Concurrent enrollment for lower-division students is limited to a maximum of seven semester hours. Lower division students needing to meet Florida’s public university nine-hour Summer school attendance requirement may be approved for up to nine semester hours at another Florida public university.

CONTINUOUS ENROLLMENT

The University’s continuous enrollment policy applies to all students. If a student does not enroll at UNF for at least one class in three consecutive semesters, continuous enrollment will be broken. That student must then apply for readmission online or through One Stop Student Services Center and will be subject to current academic catalog requirements. Readmission includes the $30 application processing fee.

SUMMER RESIDENCY

Students who start at a State of Florida university as a first-time-in-college (FTIC) student must complete a minimum of nine semester hours during one or more Summer sessions at a State of Florida public university prior to receiving a bachelor’s degree.

WITHDRAWALS FROM UNF COURSEWORK

A student may withdraw from a course or courses after the end of the drop/add period through the withdrawal deadline listed in the Academic Calendar online, in the Web Guide, or in Very Important Dates on page 68. A student may withdraw via the myWings portal. A grade of W will be assigned and no refund is given. Undergraduate students are limited to three course withdrawals at the 1000/2000 level and three at the 3000/4000 level, for a total of six UNF course withdrawals. Unused withdrawals are forfeited and may not be carried forward.

A student must petition to withdraw after the withdrawal deadline and must have supporting documentation. Grades for courses dropped after the deadline are assigned by the instructor. A grade of WP (withdraw passing) has no impact on the student’s GPA. A grade of WF (withdraw failing) is calculated as an F in the student’s GPA.

After the close of the add/drop period, students who completely withdraw from all courses for the semester by the complete withdrawal deadline listed in the Academic Calendar and have paid tuition in full will receive a 25 percent refund (less the repeat assessment, excess hour assessment, capital improvement fee, and other miscellaneous fees). The 25 percent refund applies only to fall, spring, and summer cross-term courses.

If a student stops attending class and does not officially withdraw, a final grade of F will be assigned. Withdrawals are not permitted once grades have been posted for the term. If a student has documentation of extenuating circumstances, a petition may be submitted for review.
GRADE FORGIVENESS

Grade forgiveness allows a student to replace an undesirable grade in a course, and improve the cumulative GPA by repeating the same course in a subsequent semester. A total of two grade forgiveness’s are allowed only at the undergraduate level; however, an unlimited number of courses may be repeated, though subsequent grades will be averaged together. Multiple repeats may result in a Repeat Course Surcharge. Grade forgiveness applies only to identical courses taken and repeated at UNF, and only the last grade is averaged in for the GPA; however, both attempts are recorded in the UNF transcript and are used in Latin Honors calculations. The Grade Forgiveness Request is located in the myWings portal under Student Self Service > Online Forms. Students may be eligible for grade or term forgiveness, but not both. For more information on this policy, please see the UNF online undergraduate catalog.

TERM FORGIVENESS

An undergraduate student may request a term forgiveness which involves a student’s petition to suppress one academic term of work from his/her grade point average because of personal or financial problems. Students must apply for Term Forgiveness after completing at least one semester beyond the term for which they are seeking term forgiveness. The term forgiveness form can be obtained online or through One Stop Student Services Center. The original grades will remain on the transcript. For the purpose of graduation, grades for ALL courses taken that semester will be treated as though the student received a W (withdrawal) in every course. The original recorded grades will be used in any “honors” calculations. Students may be eligible for grade or term forgiveness but not both. Term forgiveness may only be used once during a student’s undergraduate career. To complete a Term Forgiveness, students are required to meet with their academic adviser.

PROBATION/SUSPENSION POLICY

When a minimum of 12 semester hours has been attempted and the term and/or cumulative GPA is less than a 2.0, the student will be placed on academic probation and this will be noted on their transcript. If the following term’s GPA and cumulative GPA are below a 2.0, then the student is eligible for suspension. First-time suspension from the lower division is for one term, during which classes cannot be taken at UNF or any other institution. The student may return the following semester if they submit a release from suspension application and it is approved by the ACE staff. The student would also need to meet with their assigned academic adviser to complete the release from suspension process. If lower-division students are placed on suspension a second time, they are permanently suspended from the lower division and not eligible to return until they have completed an associate’s degree from another institution. They are required to reapply for admission at the upper level.

EXCESS HOURS SURCHARGE

State universities require students who begin college as an FTIC at an State University System (SUS) or Florida College System (FCS) college beginning in the Fall 2012 to pay an excess hour surcharge equal to 100 percent of the tuition rate for each credit hour attempted (i.e. courses completed, failed, withdrawn) in excess of 110 percent of the credit hours required to complete the baccalaureate degree program in which the student is enrolled. The surcharge percentage is determined by the student’s start date. If the student was an FTIC between Fall 2009 and Summer 2011, the surcharge is 50 percent of the normal tuition rate for each credit hour above 120 percent of the credit hours required to complete the baccalaureate degree program. If the student started college as an FTIC in Fall 2011 through Summer 2012, then the surcharge is 100 percent of the normal tuition rate for each credit hour above 115 percent of the credit hours required to complete the baccalaureate degree program (Note: The surcharge is assessed only on the tuition portion of the semester hour cost, not on the fees).

REPEAT COURSE SURCHARGE

In accordance with State of Florida statute 1009.285, students who repeat the same college credit course more than two times will be charged a surcharge of 100 percent of the cost of instruction. There will be certain exceptions such as repeating a course that is officially designated as repeatable for credit; however, students should not repeat courses unless absolutely necessary. Financial aid will not disburse for the third attempt of a course if credit was earned on a previous attempt. For further explanation please see the Repeated Coursework webpage. www.unf.edu/onestop/finaid/Financial_Aid_-_Repeated_Coursework.aspx.

REFUNDS AND CONDITIONS (TUITION)

Withdrawing from classes does not relieve the student from financial liability nor does it automatically guarantee a refund. Automatic full refunds are granted when a course is dropped before the end of the add/drop period or the University cancels a course (See withdrawal policy on page 21.) A 25 percent refund is automatically processed when the student completely withdraws from all courses by the established deadline. For Summer courses, a refund is only given for cross-term (Summer C) courses and only if the tuition has been paid in full. Students seeking information about refunds for coursework after add/drop may visit Student Financial Services Office/Cashier’s Office. To request a refund after the add/drop period, students must first withdraw from the course(s) and then may file a fee petition online via myWings.

To file a fee petition, a student, or the student’s representative with written authorization, must:

1. Officially withdraw from the course(s) of the University.

2. Complete a fee petition available online via myWings. Documentation supporting one of the conditions indicated above must be included.

   Note: Students must file within six months of the assessment of the fees in question. Petitioning for a refund is not a guarantee that a refund will be approved. Students may not petition for a refund of the third attempt repeat surcharge, Orientation, ID or WOW fees. Petitioners are notified of the Fee Committee’s decision in writing via e-mail. All decisions are final.

   Please refer to Fee Petitions in the University’s online catalog for details and conditions or refer to the Student Financial Service/Cashier’s Office website. Tuition fee refunds provided to students will first be processed against any outstanding balances and depending upon the student’s financial aid, the refund may have to be returned to the funding source.

   There is also an administrative procedure in place for a student’s withdrawal due to a serious medical issue when the student is incapable of personally processing paperwork. A medical withdrawal is completed at the discretion of University officers, (see the Student Rights and Regulations section online) and is conducted only when University officials determine it is in the best interest of the student and/or the University community.

TRANSCRIPTS

Students are required to submit final official transcripts from each and every high school or college attended and, if applicable, official score reports for any and all accelerated mechanism credit (such as AP, IB, CLEP, DANTES or AICE scores). Failure to submit final official academic documentation may result in the reclassification of student status, eligibility for financial aid and student holds that prevent registration.

Current and former UNF students may request a transcript by submitting a completed Transcript Request form to One Stop Student Services Center with an $8 check or money order per transcript ordered. Students can request an immediate transcript with the on-demand service at One Stop Student Services for an additional $2 by checking the appropriate box on the form. Transcripts may also be ordered online through the National Student Clearinghouse for a total price of $10.25 (includes a $2.25 processing fee). If a student has questions about submitting transcripts from other institutions, or needs information about UNF transcripts, please contact One Stop Student Services Center at (904) 620-5555 or visit the website at www.unf.edu/onestop/registrar/Registrar_-_Transcripts.aspx.
Open communication about financial matters is extremely important. Make sure that you and your student understand each other’s expectations for financial contributions. Talk about or create an estimated budget that outlines who will pay for what, where the money will come from for miscellaneous expenses and spending money and whether you expect your student to hold a job. If you discuss these matters before your student leaves for UNF, you may avoid an upsetting e-mail or phone call about financial difficulties later.

Remember, too, that college is an ideal place for your student to work at achieving financial independence. Students typically want to feel that they don’t need to ask for money, but they may not have the resources to achieve that goal. Before leaving for UNF, you and your student should talk frankly about budgeting. If you are contributing financially to your student’s education, it may be important to discuss exactly how much that contribution is, any budgeting expectations and what to do if adjustments need to be made. Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office website has a financial literacy section that you may wish to review with your student at www.unf.edu/controller/cashiers/.

Don’t forget about financial aid. Assistance is available to qualified individuals and families, but processing requests can often take a very long time and require persistence on the part of the student. Ultimately the responsibility for finding out about and applying for financial aid rests with the student.

COST OF ATTENDANCE

Financial aid awards are based on full-time enrollment. Full-time enrollment is defined as a minimum of 12 semester credit hours each semester for undergraduate students. Enrollment Verifications, oftentimes needed for insurance purposes, are available approximately three weeks after the start of each semester. Students may obtain an Enrollment Verification summary from myWings.

The University reports a Cost of Attendance (COA) to the Department of Education each year. The COA is used in calculating financial need with respect to financial aid awards. The figures listed below reflect the 2014-15 COA for a nine-month (Fall and Spring) period of enrollment and encompasses the five components listed below as designated by federal regulations. The individual student’s actual cost may vary depending on his or her residency status, living arrangements, and actual tuition costs. The following is the 2014-15 cost of attendance budget for a full-time undergraduate student (15 hours/semester) who is a Florida resident (non-resident listed in parentheses) living on campus for the Fall and Spring terms, and it is subject to change as a result of legislative mandates and local Board of Trustee approvals in the Summer.

ONE STOP STUDENT SERVICES

One Stop Student Services assists students with a wide range of questions and issues ranging from admissions to financial aid, from academic records to veterans affairs, and with general questions regarding policies and specific University procedures. One Stop staff members are cross-trained in each of these areas and prepared to provide students with the tools necessary for their success.

UNF fosters an environment of student self-sufficiency in preparation for, and success in, a student’s chosen career field. In keeping with this spirit, One Stop Student Services is available to assist students in navigating UNF policies and procedures, but students should not expect to have their problem solved by simply contacting One Stop while taking no action of their own. To do for the student without student involvement would be a detriment to student success. One Stop aims to collaborate with students, acting as an extension of the academic community through teaching and guidance.

- Financial Aid: Students and parents often have questions regarding financial aid, and One Stop helps administer a comprehensive program comprised of Federal, State and institutional grants, loans, and scholarships designed to assist students with the costs associated with attending the University. Students should contact One Stop Student Services for assistance. All financial aid awards are based on individual need, University costs and the availability of funds. Funding is limited and students are urged to apply before the February 14th priority deadline for the upcoming academic year. For more information, please visit the Financial Aid Web page at www.unf.edu/onestop/finaid.

- Work-Study: The Federal Work-Study Program is a Federal need-based program that assists students with part-time employment opportunities and work experience. These students are paid hourly on a biweekly basis. Students may not defer charges against work-study awards.

- Financial Aid Information on myWings: In addition to the holistic student services offered through One Stop, the University provides an online system (http://mywings.unf.edu) in which students are expected to manage their own accounts and administrative affairs. Award information, financial aid disbursements, account balances and required documents may all be accessed 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Using myWings, students may also access course registration, term grades, tuition/fee payments and e-mail correspondence.

- Automatic Deferral: Students who have been awarded financial aid (grants, scholarships and loans) or Florida Prepaid benefits at UNF may have their tuition and fees deferred until this aid disburses or the expiration period passes. If the charges exceed the anticipated financial aid or Prepaid benefits, the student must pay the difference by the payment deadline each semester to avoid a $100 late payment fee assessed by Student Financial Services/Cashier's Office. Students are responsible for checking their tuition bill each semester prior to the payment deadline to ensure that all expected financial aid is in place and available to defer tuition charges. Checking the tuition bill each day of the add/drop period is recommended as changes in registration can affect the balance due.

- Bookstore Authorizations: UNF allows students to use their expected refund to purchase books from the UNF Bookstore in preparation for the upcoming semester. The maximum amount of the authorization is $600. Bookstore authorizations are distributed via Osprey e-mail beginning approximately two weeks before the start of the upcoming semester. Please note that the authorization is not an additional award; it is simply an advance on the student’s expected refund. To qualify for an authorization, a student must have more estimated financial aid than balance due on the distribution date. The authorizations generally expire the Saturday following the end of the add/drop period. Please contact One Stop Student Services at (904) 620-5555 with any questions.

- Veterans Affairs Educational Assistance: Students eligible for educational benefits through the United States Department of Veterans Affairs will find the staff members in One Stop to be well-versed in the VA educational assistance programs. In addition to certifying enrollments, staff members also provide referrals to on-campus and off-campus veterans’ resources.
SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requires institutions of higher education to apply federally mandated standards of academic progress to student receiving financial aid. Students who do not achieve these standards may lose federal and most institutional aid eligibility.

There are three measures used to determine SAP: completion rate, grade point average, and maximum time frame. SAP is reviewed at the end of each semester. Students are initially issued a warning for not meeting any of these SAP standards. If a student who is warned does not meet SAP the next term, they will be SAP suspended and will lose federal and most institutional aid eligibility. Students have the right to formally appeal their SAP suspension in writing to the Office of Student Financial Aid. Students are notified of appeal decisions and any changes to their SAP status by e-mail to their Osprey e-mail account. A student can check their SAP status at any time by visiting the Financial Aid Status page in myWings. For more detailed information regarding this federal policy, please visit www.unf.edu/onestop/fnaid/Financial_Aid_-_Satisfactory_Academic_Progress.aspx.

SCHOLARSHIP FAQS

• When is a scholarship posted to the student’s account?

Scholarships may originate from the State, the University, corporate entities or private individuals and are typically awarded based on merit. Scholarships that are funded by the State of Florida (i.e. Bright Futures) or the University will be posted to the student’s financial aid award after the student’s eligibility is confirmed. Scholarships that are not funded by the State or by the University will be acknowledged, but the dollar value of these scholarships will not be added to the financial aid award until the University receives the money from the source. All scholarships must be reported to One Stop Student Services.

• How does the student pay for his or her classes with a state scholarship?

Regarding State scholarships, the University downloads a master eligibility list from the Florida Department of Education (FDOE) for each program. This list includes the qualifying students who have indicated on their state aid application that they will be attending UNF. Students need to ensure that they have selected UNF (code 161) as their school on www.floridastudentfinancialaid.org or the financial aid office will not be able to award state funding.

• Florida Bright Futures (Academic/Medallion)
• Florida Student Assistance Grant (FSAG)
• CTSTR (Critical Teacher Shortage Tuition Reimbursement Program)
• CSDDV (Children and Spouses of Deceased or Disabled Veterans)
• FGMG (First Generation Matching Grant)
• Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship Program
• Rosewood Family Scholarship

The University will deduct the student’s course fees from his or her available financial aid (the State scholarship). If the student’s available financial aid does not completely cover the course fees, the student must pay the remaining balance at Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office by the deadline date published online and also in the First Year Calendar starting on page 5 of this handbook.

If the student has a name or address change, or decides to change schools, the student may access the state’s website and make corrections by using the PIN number assigned to her or him by the state.

For questions concerning the State of Florida programs, please contact 1-888-827-2004 or go to www.floridastudentfinancialaid.org.

• Where does the student go to defer or pend their tuition against their scholarship?

Course fees are automatically pended against the student’s available financial aid. If the financial aid does not completely cover the course fees, the student will need to pay the remaining balance online via myWings or at Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office, Hicks Hall (Bldg. 53), Suite 1100 by the established deadline to pay fees.

• How can the student apply a scholarship for payment toward University Housing?

Housing charges are NOT automatically deferred. The value of a scholarship would have to be large enough to cover tuition and student fees first. The remaining balance then can be applied toward the student’s housing payment, using a housing pending worksheet. Contact the Housing and Residence Life department for additional information (904) 620-4663.

• Can a student apply a scholarship toward payment of a meal plan?

Students with meal plans will need to contact Chartwell’s, UNF’s vendor for food services, at (904) 620-2543 to make payment arrangements and for information about possible deferment. (see Chartwells section on pg. 41).
• When will the student receive the cash from the scholarship programs?

After the University has received the funds, Student Financial Services/ Cashier’s Office will apply them to the student’s account and issue any unused funds to the student after the add/drop deadline. The student must meet all eligibility requirements established by the scholarship prior to the disbursing of funds (i.e., enrollment status, desired major, student status, etc.).

• What happens to the balance of the student’s scholarship money?

Students must enroll in direct deposit to receive their funds. After the student has been cleared for payment by Enrollment Services, Student Financial Services/ Cashier’s Office will directly deposit the student’s scholarship overages into his or her checking account. Students can enroll in direct deposit online via the myWings web portal by entering their routing and account information on the “e-Refunds” link within the “View and Pay my UNF Bill” channel.

• If a student takes classes at UNF and a community college or other university will the student still be eligible for his or her scholarship?

It depends on the scholarship requirements. Students must contact One Stop Student Services to verify if these hours can be counted. If the scholarship allows these hours, the student submit proper documentation to One Stop. The student’s scholarship and/or financial aid may be jeopardized if he or she is not properly enrolled at UNF. Check with One Stop Student Services before making any schedule changes.

• How do scholarship awards affect the student’s Federal Financial Aid Award?

There is a cost of attendance budget for each student, and by Federal regulation the financial aid award cannot exceed the student’s need. Need-based aid is awarded based upon the Cost of Attendance minus the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) from the FAFSA, less any other resources (i.e. tuition waivers, payments from third parties). This calculation results in a computation of a student’s unmet need. If the student is an athlete, the NCAA has regulations and guidelines that must be followed. It is imperative that each student notify One Stop if they are receiving additional funding that is not listed on their myWings financial aid award. The scholarship award might affect the student’s Federal Financial Aid and if so his or her financial aid offer must be adjusted. This might include deleting an already awarded program or reducing the dollar amount offered.

• Can a student lose UNF academic scholarship funding at the end of Fall semester?

All UNF merit based scholarships are evaluated at the end of the Spring semester to determine renewal eligibility for the next academic year. Please review your scholarship contract for specific eligibility renewal requirements.

• Are scholarships awarded for the Summer semester?

No, scholarships are usually not awarded during the Summer. The student must contact the organization awarding the scholarship for exceptions to Summer enrollment and funding availability. Each student’s account can be evaluated for other types of financial aid by submitting a Summer Financial Aid Request form.

• How can a student check on the status of his or her Financial Aid/Scholarships?

• What does a student do with a scholarship check when the organization mails it to the student?

Please bring the check to One Stop. The student must sign the back of the check and One Stop Student Services will submit the check to the scholarship coordinator for processing. All funds must be turned into One Stop even if the check is made payable to the student. The check could affect the student’s Federal financial aid funding.

• Where does an organization send a scholarship check for a student attending UNF?

The private organization needs to mail the check to:
University of North Florida
One Stop Student Services /Hicks Hall
Attn: Scholarship Coordinator
1 UNF Drive
Jacksonville, FL 32224-7699

The organization should make the check payable to UNF and should include the student’s name and UNF ID Number (N#) if possible. A Social Security number may be used in lieu of an N#. In addition, the check should be accompanied by a memo from the organization explaining how the funds are to be disbursed to the student (i.e., full-time, tuition only, etc.).

• If an organization awards a student a scholarship and the student has a letter, but the organization needs enrollment verification before they mail the check to the University, what should the student do?

Enrollment verification may be obtained electronically via the myWings portal. If a private scholarship form needs to be completed by the UNF Registrar, the form can be turned into One Stop Student Services along with a completed Enrollment Verification Request and verification of enrollment will be certified on that form after the add/drop deadline for that term. Requests are processed within two business days if submitted after the add/drop deadline for the term. Private scholarships cannot be added to a student’s UNF financial aid award until the check has been received by the UNF Scholarship Coordinator. One Stop can add a placeholder award to a student’s package once a scholarship letter from the donor is received, however, the aid will not disburse until the scholarship check is received and processed.

• How does a student use an Athletic Scholarship?

The student athlete signs a scholarship agreement (Grant-In-Aid) with the Athletics Department. This Grant-In-Aid is forwarded to Enrollment Services Compliance and added to the student’s Financial Aid Award each year. Each term, after the add/drop deadline, the scholarship will be disbursed to the student’s tuition account. All issues dealing with NCAA Compliance should be directed and handled by the Athletic Compliance Director (904) 620-2819.

For more information on scholarships and financial aid, including links to scholarship applications, please read the information online at www.unf.edu/onestop/finaid. You may also contact One Stop by telephone at (904) 620-5555.

IF YOUR STUDENT HAS FLORIDA PREPAID

Students with Florida Prepaid do not have to show their Prepaid card at Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office in order to take advantage of the tuition or local fees benefits. Florida Prepaid will notify the University with the list of eligible students and the corresponding credit hours they can receive. Every semester students must pay the charges not covered by his or her Prepaid contract. For example, if a student’s Prepaid contract does not include the local fees benefit, a late payment fee will be assessed if these fees must be paid to Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office by the payment deadline.

If students have other awards or scholarships in addition to Florida Prepaid, they may be used to pay the remaining fees. Students who do not wish the University to bill Florida Prepaid for any given semester must go on my Wings and “opt-out.” Students with the Prepaid Housing benefit will have to contact the UNF Housing Office to initiate those benefits.

For more information about Florida Prepaid benefits, please contact Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office at (904) 620-2472.

OUT-OF-STATE WAIVERS

An Out-of-State Waiver allows student to offset the cost of tuition by a certain dollar amount, however, this does not give student in-state fees. Contact the department (i.e., Athletics, Honors, Music, etc.) from which the waiver was awarded for detailed information. The number of hours in which the student is enrolled also will affect the value of this award. A waiver is considered a budget resource and may impact other awards.

FEE ASSESSMENTS, REFUNDS, DROPS AND WITHDRAWALS

The first five days of each semester are referred to as the Add/Drop week during which time students may make changes to their course schedules. The payment deadline is posted on Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office.
2. Death of a member of the student's immediate family (parent, spouse, child, sibling).

3. Incapacitating illness of such duration or severity, as confirmed in writing by a physician, that completion of the term is impossible.

4. A situation in which the University is in error.

Students facing these types of circumstances are encouraged to consult with the Student Ombudsman in Founders Hall (Bldg 2), Room 2104.

Tuition fee refunds provided to students will first be processed against any outstanding balances and depending upon the student's financial aid, the refund may have to be returned to the funding source.

PAYMENT OF TUITION AND FEES

All outstanding charges must be paid by the tuition deadline to avoid late charges and/or your student being purged from all coursework. For your convenience, students may pay tuition and fees with a credit card or electronic check using myWings web portal available at http://mywings.unf.edu. There is a 2.75 percent non-refundable convenience fee added to the amount charged when paying online with a credit card (there is a minimum $3 charge). There is no convenience fee if paying online by e-check. Please note that payment by credit card can only be made via the myWings web portal.

If paying by check in person or via mail, please make it payable to UNF and include your state issued driver's license number and your student's UNF ID number (Note: Your student's UNF ID number is an eight digit number preceded by the letter 'N' and is located to the left of his or her name on the Registration Fee Assessment page). You may make a check payment after hours by using the drop box located outside Student Financial Services/Cashier's Office in Hicks Hall (Bldg. 53). You may also pay with cash in person at Student Financial Services/Cashier's Office. Please do not send cash in the mail or drop cash in the drop box.

CHECKING TIPS FOR PARENTS AND STUDENTS PROVIDED BY COMMUNITY FIRST CREDIT UNION: INVESTED IN UNF STUDENTS

A checking account is an important tool in helping students learn to manage money responsibly and build healthy financial habits. When choosing a checking account, don’t forget to compare the following:

- Fees — Some financial institutions charge hefty fees. Before you open an account, find out if any monthly maintenance fees apply. Determine if overdraft fees apply and what the charge is per item. Ask for a list of fees and compare them at different financial institutions. Often times you will find that credit unions, such as Community First, do not charge as many fees as banks.*

- Interest Rates — Today, many financial institutions have savings programs that combine with a checking account. Find out each program’s requirements and penalties, and make sure you are getting the best interest rate.

Community First offers a Youth Advantage Program designed for young adults age 17 to 23 that helps young people learn to save and manage money wisely. Our Youth Advantage products include:

- Free checking accounts that offer a variety of unique benefits such as ATM refunds, interest, free mobile deposits (upon eligibility) and much more.

- Community First Reloadable VISA® Student Cards allow parents to manage the limits or just reload; students can use anywhere Visa is accepted.

- Share Savings Accounts are the door to membership and can be opened and maintained with as little as $5.*

- Youth Advantage Certificates of Deposit (CD) are a great way to save money. They open with as little as $100, can be set with flexible terms up to 60 months, and students can add to the CD with deposits as low as $25 through age 23. *

Community First is located on campus on the first floor of the Student Union (East Building) for your banking convenience. We are here to support UNF students and you can count on us for all your financial needs. As a not-for-profit financial cooperative owned by its members, Community First cares deeply about the financial well-being of UNF’s students.

Visit us today and speak to our member service representative about all of our product and service offerings. Go Ospreys!

Federally insured by the NCUA.

*APY – Annual Percentage Yield. Fees could reduce earnings on the account. A $5 minimum deposit is required for membership. Membership is open to anyone that lives or works in Baker, Clay, Duval, Flagler, Nassau, Putnam, or St. Johns counties.

CHAPTER 7
HEALTH AND SAFETY

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICES

Student Health Services on-campus clinic provides urgent care services for the student population at UNF and its medical compliance team monitors health requirements and risks. Acute and chronic medical concerns are evaluated and treated. Risk factors for future health problems are addressed and individualized counseling is provided to promote optimal long-term health. Most healthcare services such as the diagnosis and treatment of minor illnesses and injuries, referrals to specialists, and consultations are available at no charge at all to students. Other services, such as physical exams, minor surgical procedures, GYN exams, STD screening and treatment and pregnancy testing are available to UNF students at a low cost.

- Medical Providers: On-campus medical providers include: 1 physician and 5 nurse practitioners. All patients are seen by appointment. Walk-ins are accommodated based on the urgency of the need and appointment availability. A $10 no-show fee is assessed if appointments are not kept.

- Available services: Physicals, general health counseling, X-rays, GYN exams, lab testing, travel health, treatment of minor emergencies and evaluation and treatment of all acute illnesses. Most, if not all, services provided in a typical primary care physician’s office are available here, but not necessarily free.

- After hours: If students need medical attention when the clinic is closed, they will be referred to one of the local acute care centers or to the nearest emergency room. These numbers are listed on the after-hours voice mail.

- Medical compliance: Focusing on the mission to promote high quality health and prevent health risks on campus, Student Health Services’ medical compliance team assists students with their immunizations, health insurance and provides educational programming.

- Health insurance: Students are encouraged to have health insurance coverage. If not, an optional group health plan is available for all students’ participation. This program is coordinated by the Student Health Services Medical Compliance program. International students must have a full year’s medical insurance coverage before registration. They must provide proof of adequate medical insurance to meet state requirements or they will be automatically enrolled in the student group health plan and the cost will be charged to the student’s myWings account.

- Emergencies: Call the University Police, (904) 620-2800 for non-emergencies or 911. If a student is taken to the hospital a representative from the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs will notify the parent(s).

- Hospitalization, serious injury/illness or death of enrolled student: Parents, family members or UNF community members having firsthand knowledge of the hospitalization, incapacitating illness, injury or death of an enrolled UNF student are asked to call the Student Affairs Vice President’s Office at (904) 620-2600. Parents may also contact the Parent and Family Programs Office at (904) 620-1567. After substantiating the information, the office will initiate a protocol of internal notice to a variety of UNF units (Student Affairs as well as academic and administrative units) responsible for taking appropriate action for the student’s protection. Specific University officials are designated to respond to the personal, academic, financial, residential as well as other needs of the student, the student’s family and/or other pertinent persons. Call (904) 620-2600 or e-mail student.affairs@unf.edu.

Please Note: Medical records are a confidential legal document and will not be discussed or disclosed to anyone without your student’s written permission. In recognition of the important role that parents play as a partner in their student’s health and success, there is a Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) release form online at www.unf.edu/shs/ and must be filled out for each issue.

Campus Safety

The University of North Florida is an amazingly safe campus; largely as a result of the University’s commitment to educating students to make wise choices that reduce the risk of them becoming a victim of crime. While the University Police Department is responsible for law enforcement, security, disaster planning and emergency response; students, faculty, staff and visitors need to exercise good judgment, vigilance and conduct themselves safely while walking, driving or residing on campus. Should anyone observe any suspicious behavior or occurrence that might threaten campus safety and security, they should report it immediately. These incidences may be reported to the UNF Police Department, Resident Assistants in student housing, UNF’s Support Our Students (SOS) Team, or any UNF administrator.

UNIVERSITY POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Police and Public Safety is accredited by the Commission for Florida Law Enforcement Accreditation. It is located in Building 41, on Eco Drive, across the street from the Information Booth located near the campus entrance from I-295/Town Center Parkway. The non-emergency phone number is (904) 620-2800. For an emergency, dial 911. Campus Police will be automatically notified.

---

The University Police Department is staffed by officers working 24 hours a day, seven days a week. They are responsible for enforcing Florida laws, University rules, and protecting the campus community. Services provided include routine patrol by vehicle, bicycle units and foot patrol, investigation of all crimes, traffic enforcement, traffic crash investigation, special events management, and crime prevention programs. In addition, the following services are offered by the University Police Department as needed:

- Crime prevention programs concerning rape, theft and other safety issues
- Emergency response
- First aid
- Fingerprinting services
- Lost and found
- Minor Vehicle assistance (locked keys in cars or jump-starts)

SAFETY RANGERS

Students who park in UNF’s more remote lots and depart campus after late night classes; or other activities may benefit from The Safety Rangers Program. A University Police Department-sponsored bicycle patrol maintains a uniformed presence with 3 Rangers in Lots 14, 18 and at UNF Hall (Lot 53) weekday evenings from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. as well as a fourth Ranger in Lot 55 (The Fountains) from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m.

These part-time Safety Rangers offer an extra set of eyes and ears in these lots, with their presence acting as a deterrent to crime. They will escort students to their cars, if requested by calling (904) 620-2800, and can assist UPD in directing emergency vehicles as well as traffic, when needed. Current rangers are all familiar with UNF regulations and safety rules, and must pass a background check for employment. They also are responsible for inspecting and testing all emergency phones on campus on a regular basis.

A Safety Ranger also patrols the library during the evening hours from 9 p.m. until closing. That ranger is assigned to ensure the safety of library patrons and to provide escorts to parking lots when requested.
CLERY ACT

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (formerly the Campus Security Act of 1990) requires colleges and universities receiving federal funds to disclose annual information about campus crime and security policies. The Act also requires that institutions issue timely warnings to students and employees whenever there is an ongoing threat to the University community. Options for notifying students and employees of timely warnings include e-mail, voicemail, website (www.unf.edu), student magazine (“Spinmaker”) or other publications, and news releases to local media. Such warning(s) may include, but are not limited to, the following information: type of crime, date, time and location of crime, as well as available suspect information.

The Act also requires that the University Police Department (UPD) maintain a daily crime log and that the University publish an annual report by October 1st that contains three years’ worth of campus crime statistics and certain security policy statements including sexual assault policies which assure basic victims’ rights, the law enforcement authority of campus police and where students should go to report crimes. UNF’s most recent annual crime report is available on page 71 and at the UPD website: www.unf.edu/upd/crimestats.html

HURRICANES AND EMERGENCIES

For years, hurricanes have been the most common type of emergency responded to by UNF’s Crisis Management Team. However, plans are in place for responding to a variety of crises that might impact the campus and community. Should UNF’s Crisis Management Team determine that a true emergency situation has occurred or can be expected to occur; a number of steps will be taken to ensure clear communication. Emergency information can be broadcast throughout campus by the building fire alarm systems, the public address system, e-mails, voicemails, UNF Homepage (www.unf.edu), UNF myWings portal and the alternate webpage (www.unf911.org).

The best way for UNF students and their families to be prepared for an emergency is to plan ahead together regarding what the student should do. In most cases when the emergency dictates that the campus be evacuated, students may go to their own home, go with another student to his or her home, or seek the nearest public shelter. Students residing in University housing who need alternative housing will go to a local emergency Red Cross shelter (local high school) that is staffed by University Housing personnel throughout the duration of the emergency.

BLACKBOARD CONNECT CAMPUS ALERT SYSTEM

Depending upon the type of emergency, the Crisis Management Team might communicate important information to students, faculty and staff via the Blackboard Connect Campus Alert System. This Campus Alert System allows the University to send a recorded message or a text message to thousands of phone numbers in a short period of time. Students who have registered their personal phone number will receive an automated phone call to the number they have specifically designated during registration. The call will come from the phone number (904) 620-4911. In certain emergencies, the Crisis Management Team may also send a message to UNF office phones. In some emergencies, the Crisis Management Team may send e-mails to students, faculty and staff in the form of a Special Osprey Update message.

In the event of an emergency, information can also be found on the UNF’s web site: www.unf.edu. In addition, UNF’s primary telephone number (904) 620-1000 will provide basic up to date information about the emergency. Students, faculty, staff, visitors and families can get additional emergency information at the following websites:

www.unf.edu/dept/upd/
www.unf.edu/anl/ehs/Emergency_Management.aspx
CONTACTING YOUR STUDENT IN CASE OF AN EMERGENCY

Should the need arise to communicate a true personal emergency to your UNF student while he/she is in class, contact with the student is coordinated by the Student Affairs Vice President’s Office (904-620-2600). As dictated by the nature of the emergency, and whether the student resides in campus housing or commutes to campus, this office will use the most appropriate means to contact and communicate with the student. Please provide your student with emergency contact information for you, other family members and close friends, if appropriate, before leaving your student at UNF.

PETS ON CAMPUS

Pet animals (mammals, insects/arachnids, amphibians, birds and reptiles) are not allowed on the UNF campus (including all buildings, common or public areas and nature trails) to ensure the safety of students, staff, native campus animals and visitors. Please do not bring family pets with you when you come to visit your student or for a University or a non-University sponsored event. This is a violation of university policy.

The only exceptions are service animals, animals used in study or scientific coursework, or animals approved for special events on campus. Requests for exemption or special permission must be applied for in advance through the Office of Environmental Health and Safety (620-2019). Violations will be reported to the head of the affected department/units or to the University Police Department.

STUDENT TIPS FOR SAFETY ON CAMPUS

- Lock your doors (room and automobile), even when you are gone for just a few minutes
- Contact the University Police Department anytime you see something or someone suspicious
- Don’t accept drinks from strangers or leave your drink unattended (a drug could have been slipped in)
- Never leave your textbooks unattended, even for a moment
- Walk, jog, or bike in groups of three or more; never alone
- If you are going out with someone you don’t know very well or if you are going outside of the campus alone, check in with a friend
- Avoid isolated Automatic Teller Machines (ATMs), look for indoor ATMs if alone, shield your PIN from view, and avoid flashing cash or jewelry
- Limit contact information to first name only and don’t give out personal information to people met online (birth date, Social Security number)
CHAPTER 8
LIFE AT UNF

Tips for all: Don’t forget! You need to know this…and so does your student.

• Call ahead before making the trek to an office or department to ask a question to make sure someone is available and it’s the place you’re looking for. Lunch time is not a good time to drop in.

• Keep all documents in a file with other University information; Record the names of people who answer your questions, as well as the date and what they said.

• Keep all receipts for payments you make (book purchases, tuition payments, hold releases, etc.). Make sure your student does the same.

• Be sure that someone knows where you can be reached in case of an emergency.

• Keep an umbrella handy when you come to campus.

The UNF campus contains many of the same resources as any town. Students and visitors can live, dine, hop on a bus, go to a store and attend athletic events, concerts and other events without leaving campus. Below is a discussion of some of the amenities on-campus that makes UNF its own small city.

BOOKSTORE

The official University of North Florida Bookstore is located at the Student Union (Bldg. 58 West). The UNF Bookstore provides an on-campus source for academic supplies, used and new textbooks, course materials, an expanded selection of general books and magazines, Hallmark cards, plus UNF clothing and gift items. The Bookstore also offers a textbook rental program that provides students the opportunity to save up to 50 percent over the cost of a new book. The bookstore is authorized to sell HP and Acer laptop computer models at discounted prices to the UNF community. The Bookstore also provides gift cards, continuous book buyback, special ordering of books, gifts, supplies, graduation paraphernalia, JTA bus schedules and tickets, and Bookstore employment opportunities.

Students may purchase their books at the UNF Bookstore or by clicking on detail schedule from their myWings account and selecting “purchase books at efollett.” Students may purchase their books from any bookstore, but students receiving a bookstore authorization through financial aid must purchase their books from the UNF Bookstore to use the voucher. Information on bookstore authorizations can be found in the One Stop Student Services section on page 25. Students should take their student detail schedule to the Bookstore to aid them in purchasing the correct books. The price and convenience offered by the UNF Bookstore makes shopping easy.

We appreciate the Bookstore support of Parent Association programming and encourage you to support your UNF Bookstore. (See ad, inside back cover.)

E-MAIL

E-mail is UNF’s primary and official means of communication. When students are admitted, they are assigned a UNF e-mail address. It is important that they learn to use this account and check it daily to ensure that they are receiving all necessary university information on a timely basis. Failure to do so is not an acceptable excuse for academic or administrative missed deadlines, etc. For more information on student e-mail, called Ospreys E-mail, ask your student to visit www.unf.edu/its/services/Ospreys_email.aspx.

COURTESY PHONES ON-CAMPUS FOR PUBLIC USE

Due to the popularity of cell phones among college students as well as other technological advances, public pay phones on campus were removed and replaced with 24 courtesy phones located throughout the campus. They may be used to call four-digit campus numbers (those preceded by 620) or seven digits local numbers (dial 9 first). You may also use courtesy phones to make a long distance call using a calling card, $00 number, or an operator assisted call. A map of the courtesy telephone locations may be found at www.unf.edu/its/telephones (Click on the “Courtesy Phone Locations” link on the right hand side).

COMMUTER STUDENTS

As a UNF commuter student, adjusting to college life may present a different set of pressures than on-campus resident experience. Although most commuting students are living at home as in high school, friends, schedule, priorities and some aspects of family life will undoubtedly change. It will be particularly important for commuter students to become connected to the University outside the classroom. Otherwise, they may find themselves simply coming to campus and going to classes; then heading directly home or perhaps to a part-time, off-campus job, and missing out on the college experience.

Prior to entering the University, commuter students and on-campus residents are generally anxious about some of the same things. All incoming students typically worry about succeeding academically and making new friends. However, commuter students may have some other concerns as well. For example, students may be uncertain about where to park, where to eat lunch or where to go if there is an extended break between classes. Keep in mind that these questions will be answered as the first semester begins. It is important for parents to be supportive while the students are learning their own problem-solving skills. Parents should lend a sympathetic ear or offer reassurance that everything will be OK. Parents may have the same expectations of their student’s life and activities as they did throughout high school if the student is living at home. However, the University is vastly different from high school. During the college years, students need the freedom to explore and grow as they transition into young adults.

As parents of commuter students, you should plan to attend parent functions, including orientation and the annual Family Weekend October 24-26 to become familiar with campus resources available for students.

Tips — Commuters

- It is possible to graduate without ever getting a parking ticket; just make sure to park in the designated areas for your parking permit.

- Chartwell’s Dining Services has a plan that works for commuter students which means less wondering where and what you are going to have for your next meal.

- Some campus offices (such as the Disability Resource Center, Counseling Center, etc.) have extended office hours on specific evenings.

- Get involved in extra-curricular activities (Intramurals, Osprey Productions, Student Government, etc.). You’ll meet new friends and may find great employment opportunities.

- The Student Union is a great place for commuters to hang out, study and visit to become engaged in campus life.

- Study at the Library.

- The Women’s Center Lounge located in Founders Hall (Bldg 2), Suite 2100 is open to all students M-F, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

(Date and times TBA)

UNF offers a variety of housing facilities on campus. First-year student students will live with other first-year student in Osprey Hall, Osprey Landing, Osprey Cove or Osprey Crossings. Osprey Hall is a traditional residence hall facility where typically two students share a room. The interior corridors offer students a high degree of interaction and enhanced security. Each wing features a small lounge and shared bath facilities. The Hall has an indoor laundry facility and limited cooking facilities.

Rooms in Osprey Landing, Osprey Cove, and Osprey Crossings feature large, two- or three-person, hotel-style rooms with a private bathroom in each room. On the first floor, there is a lounge equipped with stove and microwave and access to a centrally-located laundry facility.

Osprey Village is the University’s seven building apartment complex featuring one- and two-bedroom units. Home to upper-class students, this facility offers a full kitchen and private bathroom in each apartment. Osprey Fountains is UNF’s newest housing complex. This upper-class facility provides students with private bedrooms, six theme lounges, Ozzie’s Grill and Convenience store, a fitness center, volleyball, basketball, and tennis courts, golf putting green, a recreational swimming pool and a lazy river.

The Osprey Clubhouse is a brand new 14,000 square foot facility that includes a 3,000-square foot pool and features Pita Pit restaurant, game room, multi-purpose space, mail and laundry facility. A 24-hour Welcome Desk will be operated in the Clubhouse. The Residence Hall Association (RHA) will also have an office within the building. This facility will be open to all UNF students.

Housing and Residence Life staff members are dedicated to creating an atmosphere that is conducive to academic and personal development. Residence hall areas are supervised by full-time professional staff members who live on campus. Each community is staffed with Resident Assistants, whose job it is to assist students in the transition to college, help students with general concerns, help mediate conflict serve as a referral to campus resources, and provide their residents with a variety of interactive, educational and social programs and activities.

FRESHMAN HOUSING REQUIREMENT

The University of North Florida is committed to ensuring the academic and personal success of its students. In working to fulfill this commitment, over the past several years, we have learned that living in on-campus housing can make a world of difference in what our students take away from their college experience and in their success rates. The benefits of living on campus are especially significant for students who have just graduated from high school and are attending their first year of college. Research tells us that those students who live on campus during their first year:

1. have higher grade point averages,
2. make a smoother transition from high school to college,
3. have higher retention and graduation rates,
4. report greater satisfaction with their college experience, and
5. make better use of the educational and support services provided by their universities than do commuter students.

Consistent with this perspective and to ensure the quality of the first-year experience, UNF requires all first-year students to live in on-campus housing for their first Fall term and first Spring term. UNF students who begin in the Summer or Fall term are required to live in on-campus housing during that Fall term and the subsequent Spring term. Students who begin in the Spring term will need to live on-campus housing during that Spring term and the subsequent Fall term. Summer terms are not included in this requirement.

When living in on-campus housing during the first year, including Summer terms, students must also purchase an on-campus meal plan. There are several different meal plans to choose from, depending on the student’s individual needs. The minimal plan provides for 10 meals per week. Information on the different meal plans can be found at www.dineoncampus.com/unf or by calling (904) 620-2543.

While on-campus housing is mandatory for first-year students, there are a limited number of circumstances under which the University will consider approving an exemption from this requirement. Students who are married, over the age of 21 or have a dependent child may be exempted from this requirement. The University will also consider requests for exemptions based on medical or disability circumstances. Students who are enrolled in two or fewer courses in the fall or spring terms may request an exemption for that specific term. The University will also consider requests for exemptions under extraordinary or special circumstances which would create a significant personal hardship and which cannot be remedied by other means. In these cases, the student must complete the online mandatory housing exemption form, providing the reason for the requested exemption and all appropriate supporting documentation. The form may be submitted at the time of making application or prior to the date headlining this policy. If your request is approved for exemption from the mandatory on-campus housing requirement, you will also be approved for exemption from the mandatory meal plan for that specific term or terms.

HOUSING FAQS

- What is the purpose of the pre-payment and non-refundable processing fee?

  With each student’s first housing contract, a $300 deposit is required. (Students submitting housing contracts for Summer and Fall are required to submit one pre-payment of $300.) One-hundred dollars is a non-refundable processing fee used for the clerical management of the contract. Two-hundred dollars is applied to rent.

- Is my student financially responsible at age 18?

  Yes. Your student is required to abide by the conditions of the contract, including payment and rental obligations.

- Will students get the assignment they requested? That is, if they ask for Hall/Landing/Cove/Village/Crossings/Fountains will they get it?

  It is the desire of the Department of Housing and Residence Life to meet all assignment requests of residents. However, space is limited in each area and accommodation of a student’s request cannot be guaranteed. Preferences will be considered, however, no guarantees are made for any particular residence area, room, apartment, or roommate assignment. Room and roommate assignments are subject to change at any time.

- What is Housing’s obligation to my student if the requested room assignment is not available?

  If they are unable to accommodate the original request, Housing and Residence Life will assign your student to an available space on campus. Students who would prefer a different assignment may submit a Housing Assignment Change Request online through www.unf.edu/housing. Preferences will be considered, however, no guarantees are made for any particular residence area, room, apartment, or roommate assignment. Room and roommate assignments are subject to change at any time.

- How might it be possible for my student to change room assignments?

  Housing and Residence Life continually makes changes to assignments as requested by students and on a space-available basis. Housing Assignment Change Requests may be submitted prior to check-in. Any student desiring a housing assignment change after check-in may inquire about space availability at the Central Housing Office.

- My student does not have a specific roommate identified. How are roommates determined?

  First-year student who have submitted a Summer 2014 and/or Fall 2014/Spring 2015 Housing Contract will have the ability to use the Department of Housing and Residence Life’s Roommate Search System. The Roommate Search System was created for incoming first-year students who have not made a decision as to who their roommate will be. The system equips an incoming first-year student with a tool to build a personal profile and search other same-gender profiles to help him or her self-identify a roommate. Check the Housing website for Roommate Search System deadlines. Students who do not take advantage of the service will be assigned a roommate by the housing office.

- What if my student makes a friend and they want to room together?

  Both students must mutually request to room together by participating in the online room selection process. If that process has passed each student must submit a Housing Assignment Change Request individually. Roommate requests are accommodated on a space available basis.

- Will my student have the option to pick a specific room?

  Summer B 2014 and Fall 2014/Spring 2015 room assignments will be initially determined by each contracted student who chooses to participate in the online room selection process. Those students who choose not to participate or contract late will be assigned to available space as determined by Housing and Residence Life staff.
• What is an RA?
Resident Assistants or RAs are peer student leaders. They have received training from full-time professional staff members on a variety of topics focused on the on-campus living experience. Resident Assistants aid in providing a safe, quiet and educational living environment through the enforcement of policy, providing programs and activities for residential students and serving as mentor and leader to their residents.

• Who does my student see about roommate conflicts?
Your student’s first resource is always their Resident Assistant. If your student’s RA is not available, there is always a staff member on call who can assist with any problems or concerns. In such cases where your student’s RA is not readily available, your student should contact the 24-hour Welcome Desk to request assistance at (904) 620-5000.

• What if my student is on a scholarship or receiving financial aid to pay for housing?
Your student may use financial aid (grants, scholarships or loans) to pay for part or all of his or her housing fees. Keep in mind that tuition and fee charges must be covered before any financial aid monies can be allocated to pay for housing. It will be your student’s responsibility to advise Housing how he or she will pay for housing. Each semester an invoice will be mailed to the student’s UNF address of record or to the on-campus mailbox, usually about a month before it is due. Once the student receives this invoice, he or she needs to complete a Pending Worksheet and submit it online to the Housing and Residence Life Office by the published deadline for review. If it’s determined that your student has enough financial aid to cover housing, then only the worksheet needs to be submitted. However, if his or her financial aid will not totally cover the cost of housing then he or she will need to pay the balance online as well as submit the pending worksheet by the published deadline.

Once payment is received (if necessary) and the completed pending worksheet has been submitted, it will be reviewed and, if correct, rent will be covered by financial aid. Again, it is your student’s responsibility to submit the paperwork to defer housing rent. It is also his or her responsibility to follow up on the progress of financial aid paying for housing charges. If your student’s financial aid has not paid housing charges by mid-term, there is likely a problem which must be resolved with One Stop Student Services. Keep in mind that the Housing due date is earlier than the due date for tuition and fees.

• Where does my student pay for housing?
All housing payments must be made in Student Financial Services/Cashier’s Office, UNF Hall (Bldg. 53), Suite 1100 or online through the student’s myWings account.

• What if my student has Florida Prepaid Housing?
If the student has Florida Prepaid for Housing, the student must provide the Florida Prepaid contract number to Housing, which will then defer all or a portion of their rent, depending on where the student lives. Housing will then bill Florida Prepaid for the student’s rent.

• Does Housing offer payment plans?
Yes, the Residential Alternative Payment Plan (RAPP) is offered to students who do not receive enough financial aid to cover both their tuition and their housing. To qualify for a payment plan you must meet the following criteria:

• Complete your FAFSA by February 14 preceding the Fall you plan to attend so we can review your awards.

• Owe more than $1,500 in rent after submitting the Pending Worksheet through www.unf.edu/housing.

To apply for the payment plan a student must submit the RAPP application found on the housing webpage at www.unf.edu/housing as well as communicate with the Housing accounting staff regarding this option. There is a processing fee of $100 to administer this program. This fee will be assessed upon approval of your participation in this plan. The following is a schedule of the payment due dates for the Fall and Spring of 2014-2015.

In addition to our shuttles being ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) compliant, we have a dedicated shuttle, the “Osprey Transit,” to assist students, faculty and staff with mobility needs that extend beyond the assigned standard shuttle stops on campus. This service is also offered to those with temporary injuries. To schedule pick times and locations, please call (904) 620-2370. Hours of operation include 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday – Thursday; 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

PARKING PERMIT GUIDELINES

Parking rules and regulations are strictly enforced between the hours of 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday. However, no permit is required from 5 p.m. Friday through 7 a.m. Monday unless there is a special event on campus. Special events are posted on the Master Calendar via www.mywings.unf.edu/.

Annual and Term decal parking permits are sold online through the parking website www.unf.edu/parking. Acceptable payment methods include MasterCard or Visa, American Express or Discover credit card and can also be applied to their UNF student account. Students must be registered for classes and are encouraged to purchase permits as soon as possible after the date they become available for sale (usually in July). The dates will be posted in Student Update and on the parking website during the summer. There is a limited number of Blue and Housing parking permits available to students and once a category’s number is reached it will no longer be available for purchase. The permit will be mailed to the address that was provided through the online purchase and it must be displayed unaltered and permanently affixed to the exterior glass of the vehicle. Using any type of tape other than the permit’s adhesive will result in a citation.

Visitors may purchase a $2 day parking permit from permit dispensers in lots 18 and 53 (Grey parking lots) and walk or ride the Osprey Connector shuttle to the core of campus. Permits purchased from the dispensers will only allow parking in all of the Grey permit parking lots. Another available option for visitors is a Blue and Gray Daily parking permit sold for $5 at either of the Parking Information Booths which are the first buildings on the right when entering the campus.
from UNF Drive or from Alumni Drive. This permit allows parking in all of the Blue permit surface lots and the Blur permit upper floors of the garages around campus but not for parking in Faculty/Staff spaces, or Reserved/Restricted spaces which are marked with green space lines and reflectors or in Lots 7, 9 and 16, or in Housing Lots 10, 11, 12, 15, 17 and 55.

For the safety of our students, faculty/staff and visitors, we uphold current traffic rules and regulations that govern operation of all vehicles on campus. These regulations along with Tips to help manage parking at UNF are posted on the parking services website www.unf.edu/parking. Other online informational tools include a map of the campus with parking locations, the parking rates for the current year and permits that allow parking in specific areas.

PARKING APPEALS PROCESS

All parking citations may be appealed within 14 calendar days from the date of issuance. Faculty, staff and students may gain access to the appeal form by going to their “My Wings” account and then to the “Parking Account” tab located under “My Applications.” A Guest who wishes to appeal a parking citation must complete and submit the online Citation Appeal Form which is available on the Parking Services website, www.unf.edu/parking. The completed form together with any relevant supporting documentation must be submitted online to the Parking Services Department within 14 calendar days of issuance of the citation. Appeals not filed within the 14-day deadline are untimely, will not be heard and the citation will stand as issued.

The appeal will be considered by Parking Services Department staff. Parking Services Department staff may accept or deny the appeal. If accepted, the appeal process is complete and a notification will be sent to the appellate. If denied, Parking Services Staff may reduce the fine and will notify appellate of the decision and any reduction. If the appellate desires to appeal the Parking Services Department decision, a second level appeal can be submitted online within 14 calendar days of the issuance of the Parking Services Department’s first appeals decision e-mail date. Student second level appeals of parking citations will be decided by the Student Government Judiciary. All other second-level appeals will be decided by the University’s Parking Violations Appeal Board. An individual submitting a second level appeal for a parking citation must attend the scheduled appeal hearing. If absent from the scheduled hearing, the appeal will automatically be denied. The decision reached at the appeal hearing will be final and will not be revisited. The Parking Services Department will inform appellate of decision.

Following consideration of an appeal, the appellant will be notified by e-mail to the appellant’s UNF, or alternate, e-mail address by the Parking Services Department of the final outcome of the appeal. If the citation is sustained, or only partially reduced, any remaining fine must be paid within 14 calendar days after notification of the disposition of the appeal, or late fees and other penalties, including administrative action, collection fees and vehicle immobilization may be assessed.

TECHNOLOGY ON CAMPUS

Information Technology Services (ITS) at UNF is one-third technology and two-thirds information and service. ITS is responsible for keeping the networks and servers up and running for the campus; but more importantly, they are responsible for giving students access to the information and tools they need to be successful at UNF. They believe that students who are knowledgeable and comfortable with the tools of technology will use them more often, more productively and more considerately. They have a multi-faceted role in working with your student.

First, they educate students about and provide access to their e-mail and the Internet. Second, they help students understand safe computing practices to protect their computers, their information and their identity. Third, through the services of the ITS Help Desk (904-620-HELP), they answer questions and help solve technical problems students encounter. Lastly, they are responsible for providing access to sources of information that can help students with school assignments, conducting research and staying informed about what's happening on-campus and beyond. More information can be found on the ITS website www.unf.edu/ITS/.

OSPREYNET

UNF residents have access to the Internet through the OspreyNet network within the residence halls. There are wired network connections in every room in the residence halls and wireless coverage throughout the residence areas. If using a wired connection, the student will need an Ethernet cable. Plug one end of the Ethernet cable into the computer and the other end into the jack in the wall of their room (or into the mini-hub provided by Housing).

WIRELESS

There are a number of wireless networks available to students and one wireless network available to guests. It is highly recommended students use the wireless networks that have the word “secure” in their names. The “secure” wireless networks provide access to more UNF resources and information sent or received is encrypted (more secure). All wireless networks except “guest” require the student to login using their UNF ID and password. The “guest” network requires no login and only provides access to the Internet and Internet-facing services. Parents will need to use the “guest” wireless network.

COMPUTER & COLLABORATION LABS AND LIBRARY

Students can use the General Purpose Computer Lab located in the John E. Matthews, Jr. Computer Science Building (Bldg. 15, Room 2102). It houses both Windows and Macintosh computers. Additional general computer access is available to students in the Thomas G. Carpenter Library.

Students can use the Collaboration Lab when they need to work in groups and have technology at their fingertips. The student collaboration space, located inside of the Matthews General Purpose Computer Lab, has four stations. Each station includes a 35” flat-screen monitor, both a Windows and Mac computer, seating for five, convenient electrical outlets for laptops, and USB connections in the table for easy access to the main computer. The lab also has whiteboards and electronic Smartboards. The computer on each station runs the same software that is available throughout the Matthews lab.

myWings, UNF’S WEB PORTAL

myWings (http://mywings.unf.edu) is the University of North Florida’s web “portal,” providing students and other members of the UNF community a single secure point of entry to UNF web-based resources. After logging in to myWings, students can access key online services and information resources related to course registration, financial aid, unofficial transcripts, grades, student detail schedule, registration time ticket and more. Students will also gain access to Blackboard (used in most UNF courses), Osprey’s email, e-Learning (self-paced training on hundreds of computer skills and professional development topics) and fee payment.

Students can provide their parent or guardian access to their information in myWings – this is called the Parent Portal. For more information, visit www.unf.edu/onestop/parents/Parents_Portal_Guide.aspx.

THE UPS STORE @ UNF

The UPS Store at UNF is conveniently located in the Alumni Courtyard, next door to Business Services/Osprey 1Card Office and the new Chick-fil-A. The UPS Store provides students with an on-campus resource for many useful services, such as preparing and shipping packages both domestically and internationally, mailing letters and postcards and notarizing and faxing documents (in fact, the UPS Store is the only place on campus where students can fax). Additionally, students can purchase passport photos and stamps for domestic and international postage. The UPS Store also offers professional black and white or color printing options for papers, projects, posters and presentations, as well as binding and laminating. An extensive variety of packing and shipping supplies, greeting cards and electronic accessories are conveniently available for students to purchase.

In addition to these valuable services, The UPS Store offers an on-campus mailbox with a real street address (as opposed to a P.O. Box) where students can receive mail and packages from any carrier. This street address is separate from UNF’S address, therefore mail and packages are delivered directly to our door. Students can access their mailbox 24 hours a day, seven days a week to receive their mail. Package receiving is available until 6 p.m. and students are notified as soon as their packages arrive. When students leave for spring, summer or winter Break, their mail can be forwarded to their home address or held for them until they return. Even if the student does not have a mailbox with The UPS Store, they can still receive packages with us for a pickup fee of only $5 per package (this does not include the cost of shipping). The UPS Store’s mailbox services are a convenient, reliable alternative to UNF’S housing mail service.
The UPS Store is leading a storage program for students who leave campus for Summer or Winter Break and do not want to transport their dorm items back home, such as refrigerators, microwaves, books, bicycles and much more. Not only will we pick up and store these belongings, we will also redeliver them to the student once they return to Jacksonville. We can also pick up and deliver to any off-campus address. This valuable service can save students much time and effort when relocating during academic breaks.

We appreciate the continued support from the Parent’s Association, and encourage you to visit us at The UPS Store on campus.

Osprey Challenge Course

In December of 2011 Student Government and the UNF Parent Association funded a one-of-a-kind high-and low-ropes Challenge Course. The Odyssey III is one of the only fully universal (accessible for disabilities) units in existence. It was designed by Alpine Towers International and constructed in the tree tops and woven through a wooded area along Lake Oneida. It consists of four tree top towers with challenge elements in between and is 350 ft. in length. Participants will work together to learn new tools as leaders and team players as well as methods of solving problems that arise in the stages of group development. The lower course is designed to create awareness and knowledge of these tools as well as encourage camaraderie and trust building within the newly formed group. After advancing through challenges on the ground level, the team will form smaller groups and challenge themselves in the high ropes. This will put their new skills to the test, working together as groups of 8 creating solutions to challenge as a team 30-45 feet in the air. The participants will end their high ropes experience on one of the four zip-lines. After each event high and low elements, debriefs will be led by a trained facilitator to help participants integrate and express what they have learned. The OCC course is open to all students and student groups free of charge. The OCC is also open to the community working with many youth groups, teams, corporations and civic groups. New in 2012, Student Government funded the building of the new Osprey Challenge Course. The course has seven low teambuilding elements and a ground school. The high course has eleven team building elements 45 feet in the air with two zip lines. One zip line across Lake Oneida to the island and the other is a hydraulic zip off the high platform. All programs are free of charge to UNF students.

The Sanctuary offers ranger guided field trips and hands on workshops for school and civic groups. These programs teach about local plants, animals and fresh water habitats. THE HEALTHY OSPREY

The Healthy Osprey is an exciting collaboration across campus involving students, faculty and staff. The Department of Health Promotion along with UNF partner Brooks College of Health spearhead this initiative that currently is being promoted nationally by the American College Health Association as Healthy Campus. A variety of University departments and colleges have met with offices in the Division of Student Affairs to address major national public health concerns on college campuses (such as diabetes, heart disease, substance abuse or relationship violence) by assessing, developing, and promoting an array of wellness programs and services for all members of the University community. UNF currently has stellar health-related programming, allowing the campus community to be uniquely positioned to integrate a fully coordinated approach into the existing infrastructure. Integrated, holistic health programming will help students, faculty and staff to optimize their health and enhance their transformational learning experiences. Additional information on this campus-wide initiative can be obtained from the Department of Health Promotion.

TIPS FOR A HEALTHY OSPREY

Nutrition

- Encourage your student to avoid shopping for food while hungry.

Fitness

- The scale is not a measure of your student’s fitness level.

- Healthy eating and physical activity combined help to maintain a healthy body.

- Encourage a variety of activities including aerobic, weight training and stretching.

- Encourage students to check out all the awesome wellness related resources available through the Student Wellness Complex and throughout campus.

Stress

- New responsibilities bring on new stresses. Stress can often be the reason for impulsive eating.
Students will crave their favorite comfort foods.

- Although parents should not preach to their students about what to eat, you can definitely help them make healthy choices.

- Encourage your student to get more sleep, be active and eat smart!

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY LIFE

UNF is home to 24 national fraternity and sorority chapters and four governing councils, which provide values-centered opportunities for growth in academics, leadership, social excellence and community engagement. In recent surveys, alumni indicated that their fraternity and sorority experience has had a positive impact on their ability to collaborate with others within the workplace and that they developed leadership skills they regularly apply in their career. Fraternity and sorority members are extremely active on campus and in the community, many of whom hold key leadership positions in student and community organizations. In 2013, they provided more than 25,000 hours of community service and donated more than $150,000 to charitable and non-profit organizations.

Students interested in joining one of our 24 amazing chapters are encouraged to contact the office, read about the chapters online, and attend informational sessions early in each semester.

COUNCILS

Interfraternity Council (IFC)

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is the group of men elected to serve and govern UNF’s eight North-American Interfraternity Conference chapters. IFC establishes and coordinates educational programs, recruitment activities, facilitates Greek athletics...
(Greek League), implements scholarship programs, and promotes year round community service to UNF and the greater Jacksonville community. The Council strives to create campus-wide camaraderie amongst its eight member groups and all Greeks. In addition, IFC encourages all of its members to be strong, positive leaders and role models in everything they do.

Multicultural Greek Council (MGC)

The Multicultural Greek Council (MGC) promotes and governs the interests of the three cultural and social/service-oriented Greek-lettered organizations. MGC has an environment that administers networking opportunities for ideas, programs, and services between its constituent fraternities and sororities. MGC also strives to promote diversity and to support the works of its member organizations and other Greek councils at UNF. The Council serves to encourage multicultural awareness within UNF and the community through programming endeavors.

National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC)

UNF is proud to host all nine National Pan-Hellenic Council chapters, better known as the “Divine Nine.” NPHC is composed of nine (five fraternities and four sororities) historically African American Greek letter organizations. These organizations are designed to promote not only brotherhood and sisterhood, but scholastics and service as well. NPHC at UNF unifies and governs the nine chapters while also serving as a resource for programming among the chapters that includes step shows, cookouts, mentoring to high school students and promotion of African American heritage and history. STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government is comprised of three branches of elected student officials that serve as a governing organization for the student body. They represent student interests and needs pertaining to University, local, state and national concerns. Student Government provides many opportunities for involvement in ways that allow them to have input into decision-making processes such as the evaluation and establishment of student programs and activities, clubs and organizations, services and other events pertaining directly to enhancing the lives of our students.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

The President and Vice President are elected by the Student Body each spring semester. They are the administrative arm of Student Government. The President, Chief Executive of Student Government, has the power to administer, execute and enforce the Student Government Constitution and Statutes.

They represent the voice of the students on University-wide committees. The Executive Branch is responsible for providing programs, projects and services designed to educate the student body about various issues. These initiatives enhance the educational, social, cultural, and recreational interests of UNF students. The Executive Branch also contains agencies and initiatives that specialize in numerous programs and activities to ensure that students receive a well-rounded campus experience.

Club Alliance oversees the operations of all UNF registered clubs and organizations. They provide support to approximately 200 student groups on campus. The director and assistant director work with three committee chairs who serve as liaisons between the organizations and Student Government.

Osprey Productions is responsible for a variety of on-campus entertainment for students ranging from movies, trivia, karaoke, lectures, laser tag to big name concerts. The director, assistant director, program assistant, office assistant and several committee chairs work around the clock to ensure that they provide a variety of activities that will appeal to everyone.

Students are permitted to take up to five pounds of items per day for free. The LAW Pantry will remain open with the support of gracious donors and student volunteers. The LAW Pantry hosts educational workshops throughout the semester which incorporate helpful tips how to stay on budget while maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

Homecoming is one of Student Government’s largest events and is held during Spring semester. Homecoming is aims to get the entire campus community involved in a week-long series of events. Traditional events have included comedy shows with nationally recognized artists, lip sync competitions, Swoop the Loop 5K race, the crowning of a Homecoming king and queen, Day of Fun (carnival) on the Student Union Amphitheatre, can castle competitions, Homecoming parades, tailgating, and the Homecoming basketball game. The Homecoming Committee consists of Student Government members who work tirelessly for several months to plan a week of events that all students will enjoy.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Legislative Branch consists of 52 appointed and elected student Senators who collectively allocate and oversee the Activity and Service Fee Budget. This branch is primarily responsible for composing and voting on Student Government Constitutional Amendments and Statutes. Two of the 52 Senate seats are set aside for Senate President and the Senate President Pro-Tempore. The Senate President shall enforce all rules, policies and procedures of the Student Senate. The Senate Pro-Tempore assists the Senate President in fulfilling each of the aforementioned duties and is chair of the Constitutions and Statutes Committee. Four of the 52 Senators also have the ability to lead their peers as the Chairperson of a committee. The four committees include:

STUDENT SERVICES AND RESOURCES

Students often call family members with an academic or roommate problem they hope the family member can fix. And while you have been able to help many times, it may be more difficult now. There are resources UNF provides for our students that can help. Information on learning resources and campus organizations can be found online in the division of Student and International Affairs section. CAREER SERVICES

Career Services’ staff members consider parents one of our greatest allies when it comes to helping students achieve career planning success. Choosing a major and planning for the world of work are significant life transitions. Until now, you may have either made or heavily influenced prior important decisions and accomplishments in your student’s life. Your student still needs help. Empower him or her to take charge of the future by actively participating in programs and services designed for career success.

Career Discoveries is a series of programs and services offered by Career Counselors targeted to freshman and sophomore level students. Our National Certified Counselors (NCC) hold certifications for interpreting formal career assessment tools. Specialized training and experiences allow them to help your students identify, process, and integrate interests, skills, values and personality factors for effective decision-making. Career counselors interact with your students through one-on-one sessions and through workshops, programs and events. Our center also houses an extensive career library and mini computer lab which allows students to conduct research on career options and job market trends. The end result of students meeting with a Career counselor and taking advantage of Career Discoveries is the selection of a suitable major, exploration of viable career options and the development of an action plan for career success.

The STAR Program (Skills to Achieve Results) is a series of seminars, workshops and services designed to help students develop employability skills and present themselves professionally to potential employers. These valuable resources are facilitated by our Career Coordinators, also known as College Liaisons. Once your student reaches junior level status, he or she is referred to a Liaison who serves specific majors and fields of study. Liaisons specialize in teaching students job search, resume writing and interview skills to help them be successful in gaining work experience (i.e. internships, co-op) and full-time careers upon graduating from UNF.

Career Wings is the University of North Florida’s online college recruitment solution for part-time, full-time, internships and co-op opportunities. This system serves as the portal to UNF students and alumni to provide career resources and a gateway to employment opportunities. Career Wings is available free to all students.

Programs and Events are hosted throughout the year to engage students in practical activities leading to career success. Many of these events are informational, including speakers with expertise on various career planning topics or career fields. Our major events include opportunities to interact with employers for work experience and job opportunities at job fairs and information sessions.
Volunteer Services provide students the opportunity to serve their community while receiving an enjoyable and enriching experience. An array of volunteer opportunities is available.

Helpful Hints:

- Encourage your student’s exploration of various courses, majors, and career options.
- Don’t worry if your student entertains what you may consider an impractical major. Instead, help your student focus on skills the major will provide and on the connections to viable career options.
- Avoid pressuring your student to choose careers based solely on what’s hot as those careers may not match his or her interests, personality, values, and abilities.
- Encourage your student to seek experiential learning opportunities in work settings, to try out his or her career interests, build skills, and gain valuable work experience.
- Participate in the job search campaign by helping your student identify contacts for networking.

Encourage your student to call or visit Career Services. Career professionals are eager to help your student learn how to progress through the career planning process to make smart choices and secure rewarding jobs upon graduation. Your student’s success is our business.

COUNSELING CENTER

Having a child go to college represents a time of change and growth in the life of a family. It is a journey that brings with it many different emotions and reactions for everyone. You may be excited about the prospect of newfound freedom and independence for yourself and your child, while at the same time, feeling sad and anxious about the change. You may also have difficulty knowing that you are not there to help if they encounter problems.

The Counseling Center is a valuable resource for your son or daughter as they adjust to the challenges of college life. The Center provides a comfortable and confidential setting where students can discuss their concerns with a professional counselor. We offer individual and group counseling, as well as the services of a nutritionist, nurse practitioner and psychiatrist. UNF students are encouraged to call the Center to schedule a first time appointment or use the walk-in services if they are experiencing an urgent issue or crisis. If a UNF student is in distress after hours, on a weekend, or during a holiday break, they can access an after-hours telephone hotline service and speak with a professional counselor by calling the Center’s main telephone number at (904) 620-2602 and following the instructions.

College students often face new and different experiences and may need help making difficult life decisions. Also, at no other time during an individual’s lifetime will they likely go through as much change as they do when transitioning from high school — and the comfort and familiarity of their home surroundings — to their freshman year of college. If your child is having any personal difficulties that are interfering with his or her transition to college, please encourage them to call to the Counseling Center. We will schedule an appointment to meet with a counselor and explore options to alleviate the problem. Please feel free to contact us if you have concerns or questions. We want to partner with you to help your student be successful at UNF and beyond.

DISABILITY RESOURCE CENTER

The Disability Resource Center (DRC) promotes and facilitates partnerships among UNF students with disabilities and the UNF community. The DRC serves students with documented disabilities who have been fully admitted to UNF. Once students with disabilities are admitted to UNF, they have the option of registering with the DRC. To register with the DRC, students must provide written documentation that meets UNF guidelines (see www.unf.edu/drc) or contact the DRC for specific requirements.

Students with chronic conditions (for example, cystic fibrosis, asthma, depression, multiple sclerosis, rheumatoid arthritis) are encouraged to register with the Disability Resource Center for services they may need if and when their conditions become unstable. Students with autism spectrum disorders (ASD) may be interested in participating in Project THRIVE supports students with ASD to enhance social communication, independent living, and employment skills.

The DRC staff facilitates students’ transitions from high school to college life. Differences in class length, times, assignments, deadlines, along with time management and newly found independence are issues all students encounter; DRC staff are available to assist with this transition. In addition, college students assume more responsibility to self-advocate and assure appropriate accommodations are administered. To this end, the staff at the DRC is dedicated to ensuring that all students with disabilities have equal access to educational opportunities at UNF. The DRC promotes self-determination and self-advocacy of students with disabilities throughout campus. In addition, the DRC partners with other units on campus to make certain that students with disabilities are provided the opportunity to achieve their maximum potential.

In addition to providing appropriate accommodations, the DRC offers registered students opportunities to participate in career activities, seminars, and peer-support groups. The DRC houses books, DVDs, tapes and other resources about a wide array of disabilities and disability issues. An electronic blackboard open to students registered with the DRC informs students of current activities, scholarships and disability resources.

INTERFAITH CENTER

Who am I? What is my purpose in life? How do I live out my faith or secular framework in a diverse and increasing pluralistic world? Where can I work together with others for the common good of all?

These are but a few of the questions young adults ask as they explore their values, spiritual identity, and religious differences. Questioning is a natural part of becoming a mature adult, and therefore, a natural part of a college education. UNF recognizes that educating the whole person requires attention to religion, spirituality, and secular philosophy and to the development of skills for building respect and cooperation across ideological difference. Acquiring a working knowledge of a variety of faith traditions and secular philosophies will serve to dismantle fear and build bridges to understanding and cooperation. The Interfaith Center, as part of the Division of Student Affairs, is here for your daughter or son in her or his exploration and education.

The mission of the Interfaith Center is to engage the UNF campus around religious pluralism and provide distinctive programs for students to voice values, engage with others, act together and lead others to do likewise. As we seek to enhance the quality of community and personal life, we encourage interfaith cooperation both on the university campus and in the larger community. Here at the UNF Interfaith Center, we define interfaith cooperation as working together for the common good while maintaining the richness of our own religious or secular traditions.

The Interfaith Center provides connections to on and off-campus religious and secular communities, pastoral care, vocational counseling, volunteer service opportunities and help in times of crisis. Whatever the student’s faith or secular background we have a resource person available for support. The director of the Interfaith Center also serves as the adviser of a student-led interfaith group called Better Together@UNF.

How can we serve you and your student while at UNF? We’re in Founders Hall. Come on in and let us know how to better serve you!

MILITARY AND VETERANS RESOURCE CENTER

The Military and Veteran Resource Center (MVRC) is the primary campus advocate for military and veteran students and works with them to ensure their unique needs are met by coordinating with offices of various University services such as academic advising, tutoring, counseling, disability accommodations, veteran programming, benefits information and assistance (financial and medical) as well as facilitating referral to state and federal resources and services. The MVRC provides military and veteran students assistance in navigating admission, enrollment and financial aid processes to help them access the correct office and services.

The MVRC is committed to ensuring that Military and Veteran students successfully make the transition from the military environment to campus life and are sustained in their progress toward and completion of their academic degree. Community partners from local area organizations will also provide information and services at the Center.
The Center provides opportunities for peer to peer support, mentoring and social networking. The Center includes administrative offices, two student computer resource rooms, a work area for group study, tutoring and mentoring and a reception and lounge area for veteran students to meet and relax. Additionally a private counseling office for family and students to meet with advisors or counselors is available. The Center also employs VA-funded work-study students to help manage the office.

A Transition Coach has been added through the Michael and Kim Ward Foundation that pays for the salary and veteran-specific scholarships. The Transition Coach is the single point of contact between the veteran and any internal or external partner or activity on or off-campus.

Volunteers from the veteran student community and faculty are welcome to work with their fellow Vets as mentors to assist them in achieving a successful academic experience.

DEAN OF STUDENTS
The Dean of Students Office provides a number of services to UNF students that include assisting students during major personal or family emergencies, coordinating the SOS (Supporting our Students) program and serving as a consultant to faculty/staff, students and parents and as a case manager for students who are exhibiting significant difficulties while attending UNF. The dean coordinates the University student mediation program and provides students applying to graduate and professional schools with reference letters. The dean also serves as the Title IX Coordinator for the Division of Student and International Affairs as well as the Hazing Prevention Coordinator for the University, and provides access to and coordination of services to help students who are homeless.

SOS
Since 2008 the SOS (Supporting Our Student) Team has worked collaboratively with faculty, staff and students, and parents to identify students whose behaviors are of concern, and to intervene when necessary in order to maintain a safe and supportive educational environment for the UNF community. SOS seeks to balance the educational needs of the student and the academic mission of the University, to respond to each student’s unique needs, and to provide mechanism for effectively addressing student’s behavior before it disrupts normal University functions.

Behaviors that cause concern due to their disruptive or threatening nature should be brought to the attention of the Dean of Students in a timely manner. These include threats to harm oneself or others, intimidation, physical or verbal abuse, harassment or mistreatment of others, inflammatory or threatening statements (verbal or written), angry outbursts, stalking, obsession or paranoia.

The SOS Team should also be notified about signs that a student is experiencing persistent emotional distress, including: changes in mood or behavior, withdrawal from friends or activities, increased absence from school or work, poor personal hygiene, increased irritability and abuse of alcohol or other drugs.

To report disruptive or disturbing student behavior in a situation where safety is not an immediate concern call the Office of Student Affairs at (904) 620-2600 or Tom Van Schoor, dean of Students and chair, SOS Team at (904) 620-1577.

STUDENT OMBUDSMAN
The Office of the Student Ombudsman provides an opportunity for students to have an informal discussion of University-related issues and concerns outside formal channels. The Student Ombudsman can assist students when they don’t know where to go for help, when they do not understand University policy or when they feel that a policy has not been fairly applied to them and want to air a concern or complaint.

The Ombudsman will listen, help analyze the situation, explain policies and procedures, outline options and make appropriate referrals. The cornerstone principles of the Office of the Student Ombudsman are impartiality, informality, independence and confidentiality.

It is important to know that the Ombudsman does not conduct formal investigations, change policies or procedures, override the authority of other University officials, act as an advocate for any one person, participate in formal hearings or grievances or provide legal advice or assistance. The Office of the Student Ombudsman does not keep University records and is not an office of notice for the University.

Parents may contact the Office when the student is unable to do so for him or herself. If the student has authorized the parent and Ombudsman to act on his or her behalf, the Ombudsman may, for example, contact the student’s professors to inform them of an absence for medical reasons. The Ombudsman can provide parents with general University information explain and help parents understand the University’s policies and procedures and provide referrals to appropriate offices.

Each fall and spring semester UNF students will be reaching out to parents via a phone-a-thon program to request support for the Parent Fund. We hope that you will answer the call and speak with one of our student callers about how you can make a difference in the lives of current and future UNF students. Our students look forward to talking to you soon.

22. Violations of Criminal Law
The process of revising and updating UNF regulations and policies is always under way. Policies and/or regulations published in this handbook may be revised after the time of publication of the Handbook. Included here is a condensed version of a few of the regulations and policies that students need to know and parents need to reinforce with them. The complete Student Code of Conduct and possible consequences of violations may be found at www.unf.edu/president/policies_regulations/.

STUDENT CONDUCT OFFICE

The purpose of Student Conduct is to encourage integrity, respect, responsibility, concern, and a sense of community among students, faculty and staff at the University of North Florida. The Student Conduct Office is responsible for taking action once a student has been documented in violation of the Student Conduct Code. The Student Conduct system at UNF holds students responsible for their individual decisions and actions through educational sanctioning.

The Student Conduct Code offers a set of guidelines that University of North Florida students are expected to follow. Any documented violation of this code may be sent to the Office of Student Conduct for review by Student Conduct Administrators.

It is recommended that all students review the Code of Conduct to familiarize themselves with the University's expectations. Also, parents who wish to know more about the process should read the FAQ of student conduct at www.unf.edu/conduct/Parents__FAQ.aspx. The Code of Conduct for the University of North Florida may be found online at www.unf.edu/president/policies_regulations/05-StudentAffairs/5_0010R.aspx or an abbreviated summary of The Student Code of Conduct may be found in Chapter 12 of this publication.

Violations of the Student Conduct Code should be sent to the Student Conduct Office by providing a written statement using the provided referral form located on the Student Conduct Website at www.unf.edu/conduct. Forms can be sent via e-mail, regular mail or fax.

PARENTAL NOTIFICATION POLICY

This Policy is for alcohol violations committed by students under the age of 21. This portion of the Policy identifies specific violations of the Policy where a student’s parent, guardian, or emergency contact as listed with the University will be notified of the Policy violation. Any notifications made pursuant to this Policy will be made in compliance with Federal and State student privacy laws.

Parents will be notified if the student has been found responsible under the Student Conduct Code for:

1. A violation involving illegal drugs.

2. A serious alcohol violation. Serious alcohol violations include, but are not limited to, an incident involving alcohol which is determined to be life threatening to the student, threatening to the community, involving aggressive and/or belligerent behavior, operating a vehicle under the influence, or involving other significant violations of the Student Code of Conduct or the law (i.e., felony violations of the law involving alcohol).

3. A second alcohol violation.

Special attention has been paid to providing a balance between educational and punitive components. A series of educational and prevention programs are offered to the University community, while at the same time alerting members to the consequences of noncompliance. It is hoped that all members of the University community will strive to promote behaviors that are compatible with the establishment of healthy and responsible norms.

ALCOHOL: PROHIBITED USE

- Possession, use and/or consumption of alcohol when under the legal drinking age as defined by law.
- Dispensing, selling, and/or supplying alcoholic beverages to an individual who is under the legal drinking age as defined by law.
- Use or possession of beer kegs, party balls, and/or other common sources of mass volume alcohol on campus, with the exception of University approved functions.
- Possession of open containers of alcohol or consumption of alcohol in non-approved public areas.
- Public intoxication: observable disruptive behavior resulting from excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages (to be determined by physical observation or BAC test, if available).
- Violating other University or Housing policies while under the influence of alcohol. Students who choose to drink alcohol will be held fully responsible for their behavior while under the influence of alcohol.

- Misrepresenting or misstating one's age or using altered identification in order to prove legal drinking age.
- Devices designed for the rapid consumption of alcohol such as beer bongs and funnels.

POSSSESSION OF ILLEGAL DRUGS AND/OR MISUSE OF MEDICATION

- Possession or use of illegal drugs including use of prescription drugs where the individual possessing or using the drugs is not the individual for whom the prescription drugs were lawfully prescribed.
- Possession or use of drug paraphernalia.
- Distribution, delivery, and/or sale of illegal drugs or prescription drugs, where the person distributing, delivering and/or selling the prescription drugs is not the person to whom the medication was lawfully prescribed.
- Conspiracy to distribute, deliver and/or sell illegal drugs.
- Misuse of one's own prescription medication.

TOBACCO: PROHIBITED USE

The purpose of the Tobacco Policy is to protect people from the health hazards of secondhand tobacco smoke and to maintain compliance with the Florida Health Initiative of the Florida State Constitution. In general, smoking and use of smokeless tobacco is prohibited in all campus buildings including residence halls. Tobacco users will be restricted to outside areas generally located at least 25 feet away from buildings, including all covered walkways and are required to use proper disposal containers at all times. Enforcement of this policy will be community based (i.e., self-governing). Tobacco users are expected to act responsibly by complying with this policy. Both tobacco users as well as non-tobacco users have the collective responsibility to ensure the compliance of this policy by pointing out the designated smoking areas when someone is not in compliance.

HARASSMENT POLICY

The University of North Florida is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment and strives to create a community made up of a variety of cultures, backgrounds and life experiences.

To accomplish this, the University shall not permit discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, color, religion, age, disability, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, national origin or veteran status in any educational, employment, social or recreational program or activity offered by the University. Similarly, the University will not permit retaliation against an individual who complains of discrimination or harassment or an individual who cooperates in an investigation of an alleged violation of this regulation.

This regulation prohibits conduct that is severe, persistent or pervasive so as to limit or deny a student's ability to participate in or benefit from an academic program, event or activity or to otherwise participate in campus-life. Specifically, it prohibits:

- Action(s) or statements that threaten harm or reasonably intimidate another person causing them fear for their safety.
- Acts that invade the privacy of another person.
- To follow or otherwise contact another person repeatedly (e.g. - Stalking) or to take deliberate and repeated actions toward another so as to put a reasonable person in fear for their life or personal safety.

Sexual Harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal (including written and electronic communications) or physical conduct of a sexual nature from any person when:

- submission to such conduct or request is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a student's status in a course, program, or activity; or of academic achievement; or
- submission to or rejection of such conduct or request by an individual is used as the basis for an academic decision or employment decision affecting such individuals.

HAZING POLICY

"Hazing" means any group or individual action or activity which recklessly or intentionally inflicts or intends to inflict physical or mental harm or discomfort, or which may demean, disgrace, or degrade any person, regardless of location, intent, or consent of participant(s). Any activity as described herein upon which the initiation or admission into or affiliation with a University organization is directly or indirectly conditioned shall be presumed to be a "forced" activity, the willingness of an individual to participate in such activity notwithstanding.

For the purposes of this policy, "hazing" includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Reckless or intentional interference with a student's academic performance.

(b) Forced consumption or intake of any food, alcohol, drug or any other substance.
(c) Brutality: any brutality of a physical nature such as whipping, beating, branding, forced exclusion from social contact, exposure to the elements, or any activity which could adversely affect the physical and/or mental health or dignity of the individual.

(d) Deprivation of food or sleep.

(e) Kidnapping.

(f) Any activity or conduct that would subject an individual to extreme embarrassment, humiliation or potential harm.

(g) Forced physical activity that could adversely affect the physical health or safety of an individual.

(h) Pressuring or coercing an individual into violating state or federal law.

Actions to enforce the University’s prohibition against hazing shall be conducted pursuant to the Student Conduct Code.

NON-MOTORIZED VEHICLES: PROHIBITED USE

Those who operate or use a non-motorized vehicle (including but not limited to roller-skates, rollerblades, skateboards, scooters, and bicycles) on University campus in a manner described below, may be charged with a traffic violation, or where applicable, a Non-Moving University Parking/Traffic citation. The prohibitions include:

• Failing to yield to pedestrians while operating or using a non-motorized vehicle;

• Operation or use of a non-motorized vehicle other than bicycles on one of the University’s roadways or use of any non-motorized vehicle on the University’s designated nature trails;

• Operation or use of a non-motorized vehicle on the University campus covered walkways, in parking garages, in interior portions of buildings, within 10 feet of doorways or stairways, and in areas congested with pedestrians or vehicles. Visitors in violation of this section may be ordered to leave University property. Failure to obey could result in arrest for criminal trespass. Properly trained police officers assigned to bicycle patrol are exempt from the prohibitions of this section;

• Operating a vehicle in violation of the State Uniform Traffic Code, Chapter 316, Florida Statutes;

• Failing to dismount a non-motorized vehicle prior to accessing a designated crosswalk; and

• Any other careless, reckless or unsafe use of a non-motorized vehicle in a marked or prohibited area or in a manner that has the potential to cause harm to the operator, members of the University community, or damage to University property or other property. This includes, but is not limited to: trick riding, stunts, jumps or other unsafe maneuvers.

VIOLATIONS OF CRIMINAL LAW

All students have the responsibility to report criminal offenses. Any student who has been charged and/or convicted with a criminal offense, other than a misdemeanor traffic offense, has a duty to self-report the situation, in writing, to the Vice President for Student and International Affairs within 30 days of being charged with the crime.

Notifications can be addressed to Mr. Everett Malcolm, Associate Vice President for Student Affairs (as designee for the Vice President for Student Affairs). Address the letter to Mr. Everett Malcolm, Student Affairs, Building 58E, 1 UNF Drive, Jacksonville, FL 32224 (phone: 904-620-2600).

The Vice President for Student and International Affairs (or designee) will review the alleged criminal conduct with the student to determine whether she or he should be exempt from further sanctions under the Student Conduct Code. Note: Failure for a student to self-report being charged and/or convicted with a criminal offense, other than a minor traffic offense, after 30 days of being charged with a criminal offense constitutes grounds for immediate suspension or expulsion from the University.
Chapter 13
Jacksonville - Our Community

Jacksonville’s strategic location plus a diverse transportation network composed of an international port, three interstate highways and four railroad lines makes it a primary distribution center. It has a healthy mix of financial, insurance, manufacturing, information services, health care firms and is the home of the NFL’s Jacksonville Jaguars. A large military presence in Jacksonville adds to the city’s economic base. Jacksonville’s young population also offers a steady supply of productive workers to keep the economy humming.

The outstanding quality of life has also been a drawing card for the city. The area’s mild climate, attractive beaches, relaxed atmosphere, low cost of living and varied cultural and recreational activities make Jacksonville one of the nation’s most desirable cities in which to live and work. To find out more about the fun things to do in Jacksonville, visit www.coj.net.

Jacksonville complements UNF by providing many services and conveniences to students and their families.

The University’s Faculty/Staff phone directory is on the UNF web and can be accessed under “About UNF” on the left side. From there, one can search under a Person’s Name, Department Name (ex. Parent and Family Programs) or Department Quick Reference. All numbers are area code (904) and prefix 620. The directory is also available through the UNF App, unf.edu.
Crimes Reported to University Officials or Other Law Enforcement Agencies

This chart includes offenses/incidents that were reported to local law enforcement agencies (other than the University Police) and to any official of the University who has significant responsibilities for student and campus activities. Incidents not reported to a law enforcement agency are not verified. Some of these incident numbers could be duplicated and/or be a civil offense and not criminal in nature.
