Each student in CEN 6070, summer 2004, must complete a minor report and a major report. The minor report topics are already assigned, and we mostly determined by the instructor.

Determination of major project topics is mostly the student’s responsibility. Each student must select a topic that falls within the general realm of SQA and Testing (a guideline in that any topics covered in the Galin book are reasonable). Each student then must prepare a one page (maximum) project summary that describes the topic selected and how you intend to proceed (i.e., literature survey, original research, experiences …). You must submit that summary by on June 21 for approval. Of course, I will be happy to discuss topics individually as needed before then.
