"Venus Profit Challenge," Case (12 pages) and Teaching Note (17 pages), in revision and resubmission to The CASE Journal. David Rudd, Co-author. The subject of the case is VENUS USA: Fashion Swimwear for Women. The key topic is the challenge of improving profitability in a highly seasonal catalog business. The case traces the trail from Titan Body Building to Venus Body Wear to Venus Swimwear is about strategy reformulation throughout the life cycle of an entrepreneurial high growth company! Instructors could approach the case in one of four ways: 1. Sustainability of the long-term financial/market viability of this entrepreneurial company; 2. Strategic fit of competencies, customers, cultures, and operations for merging companies; 3. Marketing channels differences between catalog direct marketing and store retailing; 4. Continued growth and financial improvement issues improving existing operating ratios while remaining the leader in the category by continuing to grow through innovation.
