I. OBJECTIVE & PURPOSE

This regulation applies to first-time, degree-seeking freshmen as defined as students who have earned a high school diploma or its equivalent and have earned less than 12 semester hours of transferable college credit after high school graduation. This excludes college credits earned during high school completion through accelerated mechanisms such as IB, AICE, AP, and dual enrollment classes.

II. STATEMENT OF REGULATION

- (1) Eligibility for admissions does not guarantee admissions to the University of North Florida as the University of North Florida reserves the right to require more stringent admissions requirements than the minimums expressed by the State of Florida.
- (2) Normally a high school diploma from a Florida public or regionally accredited high school, or its equivalent shall be required for admissions to the University of North Florida. Students completing high school graduation from a home education program according to Section 1002.41, F.S., are eligible for admissions; however, the University of North Florida may require additional information and documentation to verify a student’s eligibility. Students admitted under early admissions in accordance with the Board of Governors regulations are exempted from this requirement while they are classified as early admissions students.
- (3) A student applying for admissions who is participating in a non-traditional high school program must present to the University of North Florida credentials judged to be equivalent to those described in regulation. A student whose high school educational program is not measured in Carnegie Units must present a test score of at least 1010 on the SAT I, critical reading and math sections portions, or the equivalent composite score on the ACT of 21. Students with test scores from older versions of the SAT/ACT may be required to retest for admissions purposes.

- (4) All FTIC students must submit scores from either the SAT reasoning test or from the ACT test.
- (5) Students may be considered eligible for admissions in one of the following ways, except as provided in subsection (3) above:

(a) Standard Admissions: A student applying for admissions who has a satisfactory high school record, including at least a “B” average (3.0 on a 4.0 scale) in the required high school academic units normally offered in grades 9-12, and who submits other appropriate evidence that the student can be expected to carry out successful academic progress at the University of North Florida, is said to have met the minimum threshold for admissions consideration. In computing the high school grade point average for purposes of admissions to the University of North Florida, additional weights will be assigned for grades in Honors, Dual Enrollment, AICE, IB, and AP courses.

(b) Students not meeting the minimum subscores or the sliding scale equivalency may be eligible for admissions through a student profile assessment which considers additional factors including, but not limited to, the following: family educational background, socioeconomic status, and graduation from a low-performing high school, graduation from an International Baccalaureate program, geographic location, and special talents. These additional factors shall not include preferences in the admissions process for applicants on the basis of race, national origin, or sex. (6) No more than 50% of the students admitted to the University of North Florida as Profile Assessments (exceptions) may enroll without the equivalent of two high school credits in a foreign language sequence.
