Course Objective:

Greetings, and welcome to PAD 6060, Public administration in modern society. The course catalog describes this course as follows:

Survey of study and practice of public administration emphasizing administrative theory, bureaucratic processes and politics, public versus private management, and administrative responsibility.

Consistent with the mission of the UNF MPA program, the objectives of this course include the following:

- to lead and manage in public governance;
- to participate in and contribute to the policy process;
- to analyze, synthesize, think critically, solve problems and make decisions;
- to articulate and apply a public service perspective;
- to communicate and interact productively with a diverse and changing workforce and citizenry; and
- to understand local governance in a global context.

Course structure:

There will be three complimentary means of instruction: readings, a class online syllabus, and class lecture sessions. The syllabus will both broadly discuss the week's material, and link you to other information relevant to the weekly subjects.

Readings will include those listed on the syllabus. You will have noted that the class is scheduled for one, nearly three hour lecture each week. Don't fret: I will not drone through this whole period. We will try to divide the lectures into two, just over one hour periods with a 5-10 minute break between each.

Required texts:

- Raadschelders, Jos and Erin Vigoda-Gadot (2015). Global Dimensions of Public Administration and Governance: A Comparative Voyage, Wiley.
- Lipsky, Seth (2009). The Citizen's Constitution. New York: Basic Books.

To contain further student expenditure, we will also make use of (free) electronic materials available online, through two media. First, EBSCO Host Research Databases, available on the Carpenter Library system. To see if you can access these, try to click on the following. For off-campus access to this, you may need to reconfigure your browser:

- Henry, Nicholas (1975). "Paradigms of public administration." Public Administration Review 35(4), pp. 378-86. JSTOR link.
- Azevedo, Ariston and Renata Ovenhausen Albernaz (2006). "Alberto Guerreiro Ramos's anthropological approach to the social sciences: the parenthetical man." In Administrative Theory & Praxis 28(4), pp. 501-21. Proquest link.

Second, there is a lot of useful stuff available just through normal web links. Try, for instance,

- American Society for Public Administration
- The President's Budget for Fiscal Year 2017

Assignments, grading

There will be a number of assignments, listed on the 'Assignments' link above, with details as well regarding grading expectations. The usual 90+ = As, 80-90 = Bs, etc. grade distribution will apply, unless I need to 'curve' up to get a normal graduate class grade distribution. In order to earn a grade of 'B' students do, however, need to engage readings, follow instructions, and respond to feedback.

Class Policies:

Obligations - You can expect me to be prepared, to explain the course material clearly, and to work to ensure that this course proceeds as smoothly and coherently as possible. In addition to generous office hours and ready email access, I will make myself available to help you outside of class or office hour times if necessary. For your part, pay attention to course requirements, learn, and to paraphrase former colleague James Hayes-Bohanon, remember that this is not 17th grade.

Late assignments/make-up exams - Late assignments and missed exams will incur a significant penalty, except in extraordinary, documented circumstances and if I am contacted prior to the due date. If similar extraordinary, documented circumstances lead you to request an incomplete, I've historically been liberal with these, but see campus policy regarding incompletes. It will be your obligation to submit unfinished coursework.

Course communications - students have an obligation to activate and monitor their UNF email account. This account will be used for out-of-class communication. When emailing, adopt a professional format. It is your obligation to get assignments to me, and to keep copies of all assignments submitted in the event that they don't get to me.

Disability -- Students with disabilities who seek reasonable accommodations in the classroom or other aspects of performing their coursework must first register with the UNF Disability Resource Center (DRC) located in Building 57, Room 1500. DRC staff members work with students to obtain required documentation of disability and to identify appropriate accommodations as required by applicable disability laws including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). After receiving all necessary documentation, the DRC staff determines whether a student qualifies for services with the DRC and if so, the accommodations the student requires will be provided. DRC staff then prepares a letter for the student to provide faculty advising them of approved accommodations. For further information, contact the DRC by phone (904) 620-2769, e-mail drcexams@unf.edu, or visit the DRC website www.unf.edu/drc. Military and veteran students may need both physical and academic accommodations and may contact the DRC to find further information. Military and veteran students may be utilizing the post 9/11 GI bill to continue postsecondary education goals. Contact Military and Veterans Resource Center by phone (904) 620-2655 or e-mail mvrc@unf.edu.

Academic misconduct - This is a 'seminar' class: free-flowing dialogue is encouraged. While this is meant to be informal; be polite, respectful and professional. Do not disrupt the class, whether through ringing cell phones, cell phone or other side conversations, web surfing, online flaming, rude outbursts, or similar behavior. Each student is responsible for understanding the University's Academic Integrity Code. This can be found in the Academic Integrity section of the online UNF Catalog, in the Student Handbook (page S8) or Graduate Student Handbook, and separately in the university's Academic Misconduct Policy. Procedures described in this document will be followed in dealing with any cases of academic dishonesty. I do make an effort to catch students who cheat, and have been successful in this in the past. Students caught plagiarizing coursework have generally been awarded a grade of F for the class.
